

Garbage collection sites extend operating hours

Cleveland County commissioners changed their minds Monday about cutting the hours of operation of the six garbage collection sites after complaint by residents.

Hours of operation at the garbage collection sites, including Midpines in Kings Mountain, were lengthened by one hour starting Tuesday.

The expanded hours should make it easier on those hauling their own garbage to sites during the evenings, county Health Department officials say.

The six sites will be open from 8 a.m. to 7 p.m. six days a week, but will keep the regular hours of operation on Sundays, when the sites are open from 1 to 6 p.m.

Less than three weeks ago commissioners cut the hours of operation at the sites by two hours in the evening and one hour in the morning to help pay for a new site at Oak Grove community, a cost-cutting move that would save $32,100 annually. The newly amended hours still will save $9,600 annually.

Mountain Fest May 30

Kings Mountain Chamber of Commerce officials are planning one of the city's biggest downtown celebrations in history.

The annual Mountain Fest, scheduled for all day Saturday, May 30, will include a 10K, 5K and fun run, an antique car show, model railroad display, historical display, and plenty of food, crafts and live entertainment.

The festivities will begin at 9 a.m. in the downtown area.

The Mountain Fest Run, sponsored by Southern Bell, will begin at 9 a.m. at the corner of Candler and West Mountain streets. Entry fee is $10 in advance and $12 on race day. The entry fee includes a T-shirt. A parent or guardian must sign for any participant age 18 or under.

The car show, sponsored by Wade Ford and Home Federal Savings Bank, will be held at City Stadium. Registration is from 8 a.m. until 12 noon. Judging begins at 1 p.m. and awards will be presented at 4:30. Entry fee is $15 and there are 24 classes for antique, original, and modified cars and trucks. Admission is $2 for adults and $1 for children under age 12. Children under age four will be admitted free.

The model railroad display will be held at the Kings Mountain Depot Center on North Battleground Avenue (Highway 216), and the historical display will be in the old Post Office located at the corner of Mountain Street and Piedmont Avenue.

All day, various activities will be held in the downtown area and will include singing, dancing and other entertainment, displays, food and crafts.

For more information on any events, or to request registration forms, call the Kings Mountain Chamber of Commerce at (704) 739-4755.
