New Shake Shop to open in downtown Grover

GROVER - Kaye Saultz and her daughter, Cindy Smith, have renovated their beauty shop on Main Street and plan to open a new Shake Shop nearby.

Mrs. Saultz said the Shake Shop should be open in two to three weeks. She visited Monday night's town board meeting to invite the commissioners' and Grover area participation.

Saultz says the new business will be decorated in the 50's motif. It will feature shakes, sundaes and a variety of ice cream desserts.

Grover paper to register voters Thursday and Friday

GROVER - The Grover Rover will register new voters in Grover Thursday and Friday from 10 a.m.-

5 p.m. at the newspaper office, formerly Bill Camp's Barber Shop, at 218 S. Main Street in Grover.

Editor Evelyn Willis said new voters should show their driver's license or proof of birth date.

The Mayor reported that two inch water lines had been installed at cost of $3640 to a new development on Blackburn Road and the board gave him the go-ahead to pursue with sewer negotiations. Todd Blalock is building seven houses, three facing Highway 226 and four facing Blackburn Drive.

In a related matter, the board extended for 30 days the deadline for the newly-annexed Amesbury section to get on the sewer system but said the property owners would be billed for sewer with the September billing for water. After October 1, the property owners will have to pay a $500 tap fee instead of $50. and a $35 cut on fee if their service is stopped. The property was annexed a year ago.

The board discussed for about 45 minutes before deciding to make the special exception.

In other actions,

Contracted with Gaston Police for a mutual aid agreement for use of that county's bomb squad should bomb threats occur and on recommendation of Chief Cash.

After a lengthy discussion, directed cemetery commissioner Jack Herndon and Attorney Colin McWhirter to develop cemetery plats which can be recorded. The attorney said there is a need for a up-to-date survey of the city-owned Grover cemetery. He said the newest survey is 20 years old and the old part of the cemetery was surveyed 50 years ago and there are no recorded plats of either in the register of deed's office.

Former commissioner Juanita Pruette said she had deeds to her family lots and she would record them.

The attorney said deeds should be brought to the town hall and new deeds issued which are notarized. "Yours may not be legal," he said. "They had better be," said Pruette.

Council agreed to buy senior citizen benches for the new walking track. The Mayor said there are no funds now to equip the park with bleachers and lights but that Council hopes to make more park improvements a priority in upcoming budgets.

"Where does our tax money go?" asked Pruette.

"Look at Grover Municipal Park, that's $230,000 worth," said the mayor. Sandra Ellis, mayor pro tem, added the long-awaited sewer system and weekly trash pickup to the list.

The Mayor said a tree trimmer would be in town next week to start trimming the trees that front the Main Street buildings.

"I hope he'll do a good job," said Ellis.
