

NINTH HUFFSTETLER FEST - The 11 children and their spouses of the late Theodore and Mylie Huffstetler held their ninth reunion at Garden City during the Thanksgiving holidays. A large house is rented and the families stay together and cook and enjoy their Thanksgiving together. The family gets together two times a year, the fourth Sunday in May with all children, grandchildren and great-grandchildren, and at Thanksgiving. Pictured, back row, left to right, Jerry Huffstetler of Montgomery, Ala., Sam Huffstetler of Huntsville, Ala., Margie Kircus of Belmont, Theo Hawkins of Dolphin Island, Ala., Gail Moss of Conway, S.C., and David Huffstetler of Kings Mountain. Front row, Annie Robinson of Gastonia, Gloria Gordon of Denver, Sarah McDaniel of Kings Mountain, Frances Lail of Kings Mountain, and Doris Hardin of Spartanburg, S.C. One brother, Bobby Huffstetler, passed away in 1974.

Scouts selling cookies

Girl Scouts in the Mountain-Grove District will begin the annual Girl Scout cookie sale Wednesday. Betty Sue Morris, chairman, said that Girl Scouts of all age levels except the young Daisies will be calling on friends and neighbors to take orders for their favorite Girl Scout cookies.

Girl Scouts will offer seven varieties at $2.50 per box. They are Peanut Butter Patties, Shortbread, Thin Mint, Lemon Pastry Cremes, Praline Royale, Peanut Butter Sandwich and Caramel DeLites. Funds from the sale of cookies are used to provide camperships and travelships to deserving Girl Scouts, for major maintenance and improvements at Camp Golden Valley and Camp Rotary, and to enhance the program for girls in troops and at camp. Scouts who sell 300 boxes of cookies in the 13 geographic areas of the Pioneer Girl Scout Council earn incentives. They may choose either the savings bond, cookie dough or camp credits. The scholarship program is offered to Girl Scouts in grades 9-12 who sell 400 plus boxes of cookies.
