

New fiction at Mauney Library

Blake, Jennifer, WILDEST DREAMS Fawcett, Columbine, 1992.

Blake's gifted pen sweeps us into the colorful streets of present day New Orleans and to Europe of the past where we follow the parallel lives of two women. One modern, one ancestral, these extraordinary heroines embark 150 years apart upon a European odyssey towards this destiny.

Dagg, Julian, SUNGOLD (Avalon Books, 1992)

As Danny Murphy drives from Buffalo to her cousin's farm in Minnesota, she hopes to find inspiration for her latest magazine article on farming in the Midwest. When her car breaks down in a vast Minnesota sunflower field five miles from her destination she finds what she has been looking for in Andrew Drake.

Gerrond, Carol Blake SHADOWS AND SECRETS (Avalon Books, 1992)

When fledgling art teacher Mindi Carlo sees a scraggly, bearded stranger stalking through the halls of Saul Valley Community School on the first day of classes, she rushes to report the intruder, only to learn the bad news: Blackbeard is the new principal.

Mindi has really put her foot in her mouth this time.

Janke, James A TINSTAR FOR BRADDOCK (Avalon Books, 1992)

When Clay Braddock rides into Green Valley for a cool drink, the last idea he's keen on is being marshal. But when a couple of ugly firefighters steal Clay's horse and provisions, he's headed nowhere but the mayor's office. The marshal is indisposed, or deposed, rather in the Green Valley cemetery. And Mayor Richards has just nominated a successor—Clay Braddock.

Hawley, S.R. FORMULA FOR MURDER (Avalon Books, 1992)

"You're no fun." That's what Brian told Jessica Chambers before she left for Arizona to start a new life as a researcher for Hydrogen Technologies. And Jessica, whose life is work, fears he might be right. Jessica's life becomes a little too exciting, however, when H.T.'s president is murdered after accusing his employees of harboring a corporate spy.

McConachie, Audrey NO BLUEPRINT FOR LOVE (Avalon Books, 1992)

Paula Whitaker has a blueprint for life: a successful career as an architect, with no distractions, including romance. And her plan is taking shape. Life, however, isn't following Paula's blueprint in detail. Ross Anderson, a handsome contractor, certainly wasn't part of her plan.

Morrell, Karen FOR THE LOVE OF LAURA (AVALON BOOKS, 1992)

When a teacher dates the parent of one of her students, there is always trouble. Laura Taylor keeps reminding herself of this, especially when confronted by the clear gray eyes and commanding voice of Patrick Murphy.

O'Hara, Gerry RACE AGAINST LOVE (AVALON BOOKS, 1992.)

It's hard for a woman to prove herself in the male dominated field of race horse trainer, especially if she's living in the boss's house. But what else can Sharon West do? She's known Jason Hill for years.

He is no longer her childhood idol—he's the man she's falling in love with.

Pelham, Howard A POSSE OF OUTLAWS (Avalon Books, 1992)

Les Remich is the most dangerous kind of bounty hunter, one who does not fear death. He would secretly welcome an assassin's bullet. But an outlaw's letter turns everything around.

Sharpe, Alice WEDDING BELL BLUES (Avalon Books, 1992)

Kylie Armstrong is a wedding consultant with a problem. She hates weddings. Being stood up at the altar can do that to a person. Kylie is still a pro at her job but does her best to avoid the opposite sex. But when she meets handsome veterinarian Theo Brighton, she feels her resolve begin to waiver.

Sheehan, Nancy THE HEART'S JOURNEY (Avalon Books, 1992)

"Very little in life turns out as you expect," Kari Neil muses as she finishes the drive from Chicago to West Greaville, Massachusetts. She and Grandma Susan had so looked forward to this reunion but her grandmother had died. Kari has three weeks to settle Grandma Susan's affairs. Kari decides to stay and finds a job, but her relationship with Reed Drake becomes complex.

■ The Gallery at Cleveland Community College will exhibit the works of elynn bernstein and Willie Little, both of Charlotte, during the month of February. The Gallery hours are 8 a.m.-10 p.m. Monday-Thursday and 8 a.m.-4 p.m. Fridays.

Little's exhibits are entitled "Slaves to Fashion" and combine two dimensional and three dimensional figurative work and video to comment on the pervasive role fashion plays in the way people image themselves.

"The World In Between" are paintings by bernstein which depict isolation of self, inner conflicts and the precariousness and complexities of life.

■ A free financial aid workshop will be held in Gaston College's Garrison Auditorium at 6 p.m. February 25. Daisy Henry will direct the program and students and parents are invited. Reservations can be made by calling 922-6227.
