McKenney donates truck to Gaston

McKenney Chevrolet and the Chevrolet Motor Division recently donated a 1993 Chevrolet Silverado truck to Gaston College. Robbie Towe, service manager at McKenney Chevrolet, handed over the keys to Roland Bell, Dean of Industrial Technologies.

The truck was donated as part of an effort to enhance Gaston College's automotive program by allowing students an opportunity to become familiar with the latest in automotive technology.

In the past 20 years, nearly 10,000 new Chevrolet cars and trucks damaged in transit or by flood have been donated to schools for in-class instructional purposes. Any secondary public and parochial schools, private nonprofit secondary and technical school, and community college with an automotive service training program may qualify for the donation of a vehicle or vehicle component.

Gaston College students currently enrolled in an automotive technology class will have the first opportunity to examine the truck's inner workings.

Choruses to entertain at Shelby

Kings Mountain, Shelby, Crest and Burns High choruses will present their annual choral festival at Malcolm Brown Auditorium in Shelby on February 11. The concert will begin at 7:30. Admission is one dollar.

Two hundred twenty students from the four area high schools' advanced chorus will perform together on a selected program. The clinician is Jim Williams from East Burke High School. Williams has taught choral music in North Carolina for 30 years. His groups have consistently received superior ratings at contests. He was chosen as teacher of the year during his teaching career.

Music to be performed includes "When the Saints" by John Rutter, "O Praise the Lord" by Rachmaninoff and "Lord, Make Me and Instrument of Thy Peace" by Jim Williams.

Sara Lynn, Molly Hamrick, Margaret Mauney, Jennifer Regan and David Brinkley, all second graders, model clothing from the good old days for a recent program at North School.

Students model 'Prairie' clothing

Ahh. The good old days! "Little House on the Prairie" North School-style featured a program in Mrs. Scism and Mrs. Herndon's second grades recently.

After enjoying the classic, "Little House on the Prairie" by Laura Ingalls Wilder the children enjoyed hands-on experiences from the book.

They wore a fur stole made from mink pelts as well as other days of old attire.

Ask any one of the students about their horse, saddle and bridle in the corral and you will be invited to ride, as well as learn the parts of the equipment.

Children modeling clothing were Sara Lynn, Molly Hamrick, Margaret Mauney, Jennifer Regan and David Brinkley.
