

Judge speaks at KM church

A large crowd of church members and friends celebrated the 13th anniversary banquet of St. Paul United Methodist Church Saturday night at Ebenezer Recreation and Park Center and heard an address by Judge Calvin McSwain of Greensboro.

Rev. Liston Sellers Jr., pastor, welcomed the group. Attorney Clayward C. Corry Jr. introduced the speaker.

Dr. E. Thombs was master of ceremonies.

Ministers participating on the program were Rev. Stellie Jackson, Rev. C. A. Feenster, Rev. D. C. Wilson and Rev. John Houze. Mayor Scott Neisler and Mrs. Neisler were guests. The mayor gave greetings.

Henry Gilmore presented special music.

The program opened with the national anthem of the Black nation, "Lift Every Voice and Sing."

Ushers were Michael Adams, Ezell Bell, Roger McClain, Jet Parker, Jethro Parker and John and Jonathan Starr. Hostesses for the fellowship hour were Michelle Crawford and Alana Moore.

The dinner opened a weekend celebration by the church. Sunday, Rev. J. W. Saunders was the speaker at the special 2 p.m. worship service at the church.

Benefit singing at Buffalo Baptist

A gospel singing to benefit Kayla Newton will be held Saturday at 7 p.m. at Buffalo Baptist Church in Blacksburg, S.C.

Kayla Newton, three-week old daughter of Steve and LeighAnne Newton, is hospitalized in Carolinas Medical Center with two rare diseases - Ondine's Curse and Moebius Sequence.

Rev. Ricky Scruggs, pastor, invites the public to attend.
