

JERRY BROADWELL

Broadwell named to BB&T Board

F.J. "Jerry" Blackwell III has been named to the City Board of Branch Banking and Trust Company in Kings Mountain. The announcement was made by city executive Glenn Anderson.

Broadwell is president of Diversified Fabrics.

A native of Clinton, Broadwell is a graduate of N.C. State University and is a member of the Kings Mountain Chamber of Commerce and the North Carolina Textile Manufacturers Association. He attends Saint Matthews Lutheran Church where he is chairman of the Boy Scout Committee.

He is married to Mary Leigh Broadwell of Kings Mountain and they have four children.

Three join staff at Mental Health

Melissa Summer, Anne Short and Susan Lovelace have joined the professional staff of Cleveland County Mental Health Center.

Summer is Employee Assistance Program Director and is responsible for working with local businesses and industry management, supervisory training, assessing employees and making appropriate referrals, and evaluating and providing feedback to businesses and industries via statistical reports and site visits.

Short is Community Development Director. Her responsibilities include design of local prevention projects in collaboration with other community resources, planning and writing grants, and coordinating new efforts to educate the community about services and results of the program.

Lovelace is a part-time Clerk Typist III. Prior to joining the Mental Health Center, she worked with the Board of Elections.

Pizza Post opens on Walker Street

Pizza Post has opened at 313 Walker Street in the building formerly occupied by Hungry Howie's.

The new business features homemade pizza, spaghetti, salad, deli subs and lasagna.

William O'Neal, 28, and Allen Busler, 34, are co-owners of the new business. They also own and operate a similar restaurant in Gastonia.

Pizza Post is open from 4-10 p.m. Sunday through Thursday and Friday and Saturday from 4-11 p.m. The business is closed on Monday.

O'Neal said that free delivery is offered in the Kings Mountain area.

Two join staff at CC College

Cleveland Community College hired two new employees recently.

Housekeeping Supervisor Gene Lail, native of Cleveland County, resides in Kings Mountain with his wife, Carolyn. He is a graduate of Bethware High School and recently was a supervisor in the Research and Development Department of Doran Textiles.

Doug Lovelace, instructor in the Industrial Management program, is a native of Alabama. He earned his degree in industrial engineering from Auburn University and his masters in Business Administration from the University of Richmond. He comes to Shelby from Allied Signal Corporation in Hopewell, VA. He has a daughter, Camille Griffin, and a son, Murfee.

Remove flowers from cemetery

Mountain Rest Cemetery Supt. Dorus Bennett reminds that it's time to clean up the cemetery for Easter.

Bennett reminds that workers are readying the cemetery grounds for the traditional Easter Sunrise service. He asks families to remove outdated flowers from graves.
