

Hike set at Crowders Mountain

Crowders Mountain State Park will host a moderately strenuous loop hike to the top of Crowders Mountain Saturday at 1 p.m.

Participants should meet at the park office. The hike will last about four hours. Wear good hiking shoes, dress appropriately and take water and binoculars.

For more information, call 853-5375.

WalkAmerica kick-off January 17

Eaton Corporation will sponsor the 1994 Cleveland County WalkAmerica and a kick-off luncheon for the event will be held January 17 at noon at Days Inn, Shelby.

Honorary Chairman is Jim Rennirt, Eaton Plant Manager.

Kristen Gillespie, 1994 Cleveland County WalkAmerica Ambassador, will help kick-off the event.

Residents are encouraged to form teams in their business organizations and walk with Kristen, said Rennirt.

Kristen, five-year-old daughter of Richard and Johanna Gillespie, is the first child ever to be named National Special Ambassador of the March of Dimes.

The Shelby girl was recently one of four finalists for the National March of Dimes Ambassador position. Six-year-old twins Neil and Jacquelin Burch of Cincinnati, Ohio, were chosen.

The Special Ambassador position was chosen for Kristen because the March of Dimes has asked for the Gillespies' involvement with shaping the nation's health care reform initiative.

Mrs. Gillespie has been asked by the March of Dimes to testify before Congress in support of strong health care for all babies and pregnant women.

"At first I was disappointed that Kristen was not chosen as March of Dimes Ambassador," said Gillespie. "But this new position gives us the opportunity to do something even more important, to fight before Congress for low birth weight babies like Kristen, to be allowed the best of care."

"Our chapter feels very good about the decision to name Kristen Special Ambassador," said Rebecca Belk, of the Greater Piedmont Chapter of the March of Dimes.

"This advocacy position will allow the Gillespies to really make a difference for the future of America's babies and their rights to health care."

Shannon Anderson is three

Shannon Anderson, daughter of Eddie and Elaine Anderson of Kings Mountain, was three years old December 29, 1993. She celebrated with a party January 1 at Central United Methodist Church.

Guests attending the party were her cousins, Krista, Stefanie and Richie Anderson and Krystal and Lauren Proctor; her aunt, Melanie Anderson; her parents, Elaine and Eddie Anderson; and her grandparents, Lucy and Ken Anderson and Glenn and Dot Spearman.

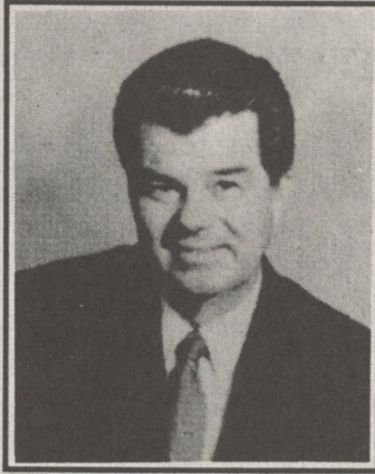

Shannon is the great-granddaughter of Ethel Childers.

GARY BRYANT

Carl Baugh is the founder and director of Creation Evidences Museum in Glen Rose, Texas. Dr. Baugh is a well known lecturer on Special Creation and holds a Masters degree in archeology as well as a Ph.D in education from Pacific College of Graduate Studies. Once an advocate of evolution, Dr. Baugh later came to the conclusion that only the creation account in the Bible was meaningful in describing the laws governing our universe as was a more superior model than that of evolutionary theory. Come view his vital work in proving that Special Creation is true!

Gary Bryant will moderate the question and answer sessions after each segment.
