

GWU offers senior adult programs

BOILING SPRINGS - The College for Senior Adults at Gardner-Webb University, a learning program for those 55 years of age and older, has scheduled a new slate of classes to begin in February.

There is no charge for membership this semester and participants may join in the classes at their convenience.

The first offering, "An Examination of Current World Affairs from the Viewpoint of a Russian Scholar," is held on Mondays from 10-11 a.m. in Elliott 303 on the GWU campus. "Once Upon a Memory" will be held at the Senior Center in Shelby on Feb. 10, 17, 24 and March 3. The series is designed to help improve and strengthen an individual's memory.

For more information about classes, call Nancy Bottoms at 434-9726 any morning before 11:30.

Dr. and Mrs. Gene Washburn of Boiling Springs have established the Anthony Eastman Endowed Scholarship Fund at GWU in honor of the GWU history professor. The scholarship will be awarded to students who display exemplary academic standing.

The GWU School of Divinity has announced the establishment of the Underwood-Watson Endowed School of Divinity Scholarship by Rev. and Mr. James A. Pittman of Roanoke Rapids. The scholarship was begun with a $100,000 pledge from the Pittmans and will be for aspiring Baptist ministers to receive the best possible seminary education in a positive Christian environment.
