

Reading program set at library

Summer time is reading time at Mauney Memorial Library.

The theme for this year's program is "Dive Into A Book." We will explore the oceans, rivers and lakes, the beaches, the rocky shore line, the reefs, and immerse ourselves in the pleasure of reading.

The kick-off program on Thursday June 9 at 10:30 a.m. will feature the puppet team of First Baptist Church. REgular programming will begin on Monday, June 13. On Mondays, ages 3 and 4 will meet at 10:30 a.m., and ages 5 and 6 will meet at 4 p.m. On Thursdays, ages 7 and 8 will meet at 10:30 a.m. and ages 9 through 12 will meet at 4 p.m. Day Camp will come on Tuesdays, and other day care centers will come on Wednesdays.

The program will focus on aquatic themes. The aquarium at the front desk sets the mood for the Summer Reading Club and is provided by Kings Mountain Farm Center. The exhibit will change from time to time throughout the summer.

Children and parents will be responsible for recording the books read and keeping a log. Children will earn sand dollars for the book they read, and will be able to spend their sand dollars at the Treasure Shop, which will be stocked with small toys, book marks, and discount coupons.

The Summer Reading Club will end with a pool party at the Recreation Center. Cookies and soft drinks will be served, and life guards will be provided. All children who earn a certificate will be eligible to attend the party.

It's going to be an exciting summer at Mauney Library. So "Dive Into A Book" and splash into reading.

NATHAN BIVINS

Bivins to attend Legislators School at WCU

CULLOWHEE - Nathan Bivins, son of Randy and Robin Bivins of Shelby, has been selected to attend the Legislator's School for Youth Leadership Development at Western Carolina University.

He attends Burns Middle School in Lawndale and is a rising eighth grader. He is an honor student and has received the President's Cup Award and 1993 National Honor Award from the U.S. Achievement Academy. He is a member of the Beta Club and serves as vice-president. He is a member of Boy Scout Troop 112, and is a first-class Scout. He represented Burns Middle School as 1994 Spelling Bee winner at the Cleveland County Spelling Bee. He has also received the 1991 Babe Ruth Sportsmanship Award, and was a member of the Burns Middle School baseball team. He enjoys playing baseball, fishing and hunting.

The Legislators' School for Youth Leadership Development offers some 300 rising eighth through 12th graders an opportunity to develop skills in leadership, critical thinking and communication. Located on the campus of Western Carolina University, the three-week residential program utilizes the cultural and recreational resources of WCU and the setting adjacent to the Great Smoky Mountains

National Park.

It is operated in two sessions, June 18-July 8 for 10th through 12 graders, and July 10-30 for eighth and ninth graders, by WCU's Office for Rural Education.

During their stay, students participate in academic and special interest courses in photography, journalism, computers, art, astronomy and other topics. Community service work and discussions about current issues, led by state and regional leaders, are important aspects of the program. It is funded by the General Assembly. A similar school operates at East Carolina University.
