

The Way We Were 37 Years Ago

From The Files Of The 1957 Kings Mountain Herald

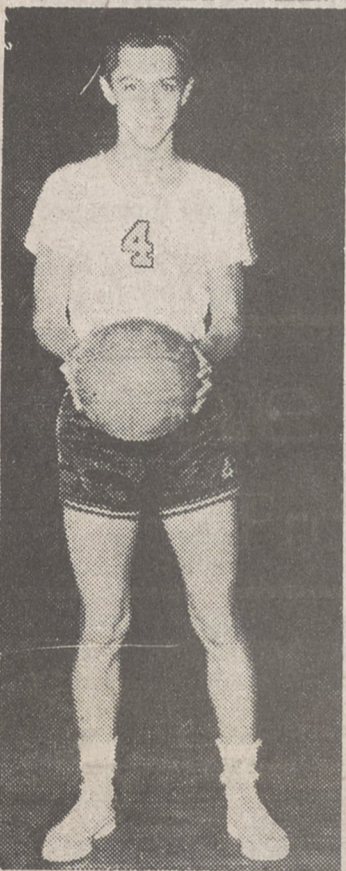

HONOR SOCIETY INDUCTS MEMBERS — Kings Mountain high school chapter of the National Honor Society inducted two new members and elected new officers recently. Pictured, left to right, are Mary Ann Beam, vice - president, Jane Osborne, Doris Cloninger, Jeanne Plonk, a new member, and recently - elected secretary,

Mrs. W. T. Weir, chapter advisor, Curtis George, past president, E. L. Brown, high school principal, Pat Owens, Peggy Joyce Reynolds, and Sybil Stringfellow. David Baity, kneeling, a new member, was elected president of the organization.

HUNTS MOUNTAIN LIONS-WITH CAMERA--Howard Edens, former Kings Mountain citizen, recently has been on a mountain lion hunting expedition in rugged Colorado country. Mr. Edens was cameraman for a company filming a nature movie for sale to television network. Mr. Edens didn't say whether the mountain lion he's thrown over his horse's neck was bagged with his camera or with a more customary firearm. At any rate, he said he got some good footage.

PLAY-MAKER — Senior Guard John McGinnis has been a big gun for the Kings Mountain team this year. John is best noted for his sensational ball handling and play-making. He is second highest scorer for the year. McGinnis turned in one of his best games of the year Tuesday as the locals downed Lincolnton 36-34.

WINS AWARD — Paul Hendricks, Jr., high school freshman, entered a winning exhibit in the Science fair conducted in Salisbury Saturday. Students from 14 counties competed in the show.

Hendricks Gets Science Award

Paul Hendricks, Jr., Central school ninth grader, won a first place award for a physical science entry in the district science fair in Salisbury Saturday.

Students from 14 counties entered projects in the fair. The Kings Mountain student's winning project, entered in the Junior division of the fair, was an exhibition including working models on the uses of magnets. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Paul Hendricks.

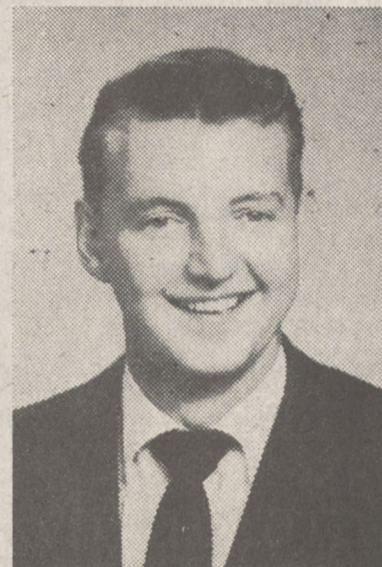

ELLEN BAKER

Ellen Baker Receives Award

Miss Ellen Baker, Kings Mountain high school senior, received the state homemaker degree at the annual convention in Raleigh Friday of the State association of the Future Homemakers of America.

Miss Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. P. Baker, Jr., is a member of the local chapter at Central high school.

Six degree committees, each consisting of four advisors and two PHA chapter members, review the applications and inform the members who are to receive the degrees.

GETS DEGREE -- Jack Still of Kings Mountain, recently received the master of arts degree from Peabody college at Nashville, Tennessee.

Still Receives Master's Degree

Jack Still, son of Mr. and Mrs. Garland E. Still, recently received his master of arts degree from Peabody college at Nashville, Tennessee.

Mr. Still, a graduate of Davidson college, arrives Saturday from Nashville for a visit here with his parents prior going to Clearwater, Fla. where he has accepted a position for the coming school term in the Clearwater, Fla., high school.

LODGE MASTER—Fred Weaver was elected Monday night to serve as master of Fairview Lodge AF & AM for the coming year. He will succeed Thomas D. Tindall.

Weaver Elected Masonic Master

Fred Weaver, Kings Mountain dry cleaner, has been elected master of Fairview Lodge 339, AF & AM, for the coming year. Mr. Weaver will succeed Thomas D. Tindall.

Other officers elected at Monday night's meeting were: Frank Ballard, senior warden; I. C. Davis, junior warden, L. A. Harmon, treasurer; and Thomas D. Tindall, secretary.

TOP SALESMEN IN SCOUT COOKIE SALE — Brownie Girl Scout Troop 32 of First Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Harry Page is leader, tied with Brownie Troop 47 of Belmont for top award in the recently-conducted sale of Girl Scout cookies of which proceeds go to the improvement program at Camp Rotary. Pictured with an official of the Girl Scout council are, front row, left to right,

Sallie Fulkerson, Jane Morris, Sarah Frances Mauney, Lynda Wattersson, Mary Jo Hord, Tina Houser, and Mrs. Page, the leader. Back row, left to right, are Susan Plonk, Sara Nell Moss, Judy Morris, Mary Ann Houser, and Lynda Mauney. Not present when the picture was made were Mary Leigh Mauney, Linda Sherrer, Rita Bell, and Mary Ethel Dixon.

WOMEN GOLFERS HOLD TOURNAMENT— Women Golfers of the Foothills League gathered in Gastonia last week for a tournament at Gaston Country Club. Pictured are five of the members of the league which includes members from Shelby, Gastonia, Kings Mountain, Lenoir, Mooresville, Catawba, Statesville, Morganton, North Wilkesboro, and Lincolnton. Up front are

Low Ambers, of Mooresville, president of the league, and Emily Jacobs, president of Gaston Country club's women golfers. Second row are Helen Small, of Morganton, and Kay Smith, of Lenoir. Behind are Mrs. Margaret Ward, Kings Mountain, Sue Jones, of Catawba, and Bonnie Roberts, of Shelby. (Engraving, courtesy, Gastonia Gazette)

It's A Smart Choice.™

Cherryville.....435-5449

Gastonia.....824-9856

Kings Mountain....739-0164