Ormand reunion set at Long Creek

The 97th consecutive annual reunion of the descendants of James Ormand (1669-1766) will be held at noon Saturday at the site of the "Old Furnace" on Long Creek Church Road between Bessemer City and Kings Mountain.

Around 200 relatives take a picnic lunch and gather each year for the reunion, traveling from all over the United States.

Rev. Ben F. Ormand has performed an extensive work on the genealogy of the descendants of James Ormand and has published a book entitled "Ormand History and Descendants of James Ormand Sr. 1669-1766" by A. Press Inc. of Greenville, S.C. in 1983. A copy of the book will be available at the picnic along with recent supplements.

James Ormand and his son settled on land granted to them in 1754 by George II, King of England, from the Catawba River to Long Creek. An iron furnace was erected on a portion of the property on Long Creek Church Road around the time of the Revolutionary War. The furnace is said to have been used for making iron products, from cannon balls to plowshares. The Ormand family has maintained the property over the years and the Gaston County Historical Commission and Board of County Commissioners has designated the furnace as historical property.

Application is also being considered for including it in the National Register of Historical Places.

For additional information, call John L. McCarter, Jr., 704-365-0948 or Mary L. Nanz, 704-739-7154.

Phifer-Savell

Mr. and Mrs. James Ray Savell Sr., who were wed Saturday, are on a wedding trip to Cancun, Mexico and afterwards will be at home in Kings Mountain.

Connie Marie Phifer became Mr. Savell's bride in a double-ring ceremony in Boyce Memorial ARP Church.

Dr. Thomas L. Ritchie, former pastor of the bride, officiated the ceremony for which Norman Fuller McGill III was organist and Sharon Carson was pianist.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore a tea-length gown by Jessica McClintock, a "Melissa" design of Candlelight Chantilly lace with long, tapered sleeves and a handkerchief hemline. The gown featured a deep V back with silk rosettes and ribbons at the waist. The Sabrina neckline and bodice were trimmed with Venise lace encrusted in delicate crystals and tiny seed pearls. Her satin hat was enhanced by delicate lace, crystals and pearls designed by her sister. She carried a white bridal bouquet.

Reta Rebecca Phifer was her sister's maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Nancy F. McDaniel of Gastonia, Elizabeth T. Satterfield of Pawley's Island, SC, Patti P. Nelson of Clinton, SC and Lesley Anne Phifer of Shelby.

All the attendants wore green cotton long skirts with champagne colored blouses. The blouses featured delicate lace with pearls and sequins. Matching braided belts adorned the outfits. They carried peach colored roses with eggshell colored ribbons.

Steve Langley of Charlotte was best man. Groomsman was Doyt Phifer of Kings Mountain.

Ushers were Bo Ballard of Kings Mountain and Mason Blair of Charlotte.

Family and friends entertained after the ceremony at a reception in the church parlor.

The bride and bridegroom hosted the rehearsal dinner Friday evening at Dini's Harbor House in Kings Mountain.
