GOP taps Charlie Harry

Cleveland County Republicans elected Grover Industries executive Charlie Harry as chairman Tuesday night.

The new officers and directors were elected for a two-year term and include Kathy Livesey, secretary, and Keith Miller, a director, both of Kings Mountain.

Republicans also adopted a plan of organization for the next two years at the meeting at the Cleveland County administration building.

Harry is a former member of the county board of commissioners. Other officers are C. C. Guy, Ray Wilson and David Beam, vice-presidents, and Farrell Wease, treasurer.

Grover discusses officers

GROVER - A mutual aid relationship may soon be established by the Town of Grover and the Cleveland County Sheriff's Department and N. C. Highway Patrol.

The subject of police protection dominated the agenda at Monday night's short Town Board meeting at Town Hall.

Mayor Ronald Queen said he wanted to prevent any disagreement about Grover officers working outside the town limits. No one spoke in opposition.

Before the town hired its current part-time patrols, Commissioner Noel Spivey was vocal about his concern that former officers had spent too much time in assistance to other law enforcement agencies.

The N. C. Highway Patrol has joined the Sheriff's Department in requesting a copy of the part time Grover patrol schedule.

Council took no action on accepting a federal grant for $35,000 to increase its patrols in a community-oriented policing effort which would require one full time police officer whose salary would be paid by the grant.
