

Washington Elementary presents patriotic musical

A patriotic musical, "Moods of America," was a rave hit at Washington Elementary School last week.

More than 300 students were on stage during a 45-minute production that began with "Yankee Doodle Dandy" in 1776 and ended with an All-American red, white and blue finale featuring a color guard and the singing of "God Bless America."

Principal Carole McDaniel said the children had worked hard for several weeks on music and costume to present what was a Memorial Day salute Thursday afternoon and again Thursday night with songs and periods that had highlighted the country's 200-plus year history.

The program began with Lindsay Bingham announcing the production and readers Kelli Harris and Jerome Howell.

Robert Ryan, Chris Chambers, David Howell, Justin Marlowe, Lebaron Burston, Palladin Carter, Cedrick Geter, Donald Peace and Allan VanBuren were decked out as "Yankee Doodle Dandy."

Shila Robbs and Arlene Pugh introduced the 1810 rendition of "Davy Crockett" by Chad Huntsinger, Daniel Hope, Cedric Ross, Dustin Costner, Aaron Haynes, Larry Baxter, Randy Vinson, Antonio Degree, Harvey Degree, Casey Biddix, Devin Simpson, Justin Snellings and Eric Howell.

LaDonna Brown and Kyle Martin stepped up to the microphone to present the 1840 "McNamara's Band," which included Chris Carrier, Jared Baxter, Eric Lovelace, Dashaund Key, Travis Jones, Gary Emery, Chris McLean, Tarus Washington, Travis Martin, Kenny Cooper and Kirk Smith.

Dayne Hamrick and Shila Robbs presented the 1850 "Camptown Races" featuring Sammy Deyton, Brady Porter, Cody Barrett, Andrea Smith, Joe Bingham, Mary Ellen Harris, Andrew Haskett, Lindsey Littlejohn, Reagon Hill and Amanda Wilson.

Next up were LaDonna Brown and Colin Simpson who introduced the 1890's "In The Good Old Summertime," featuring Jaime Trammell, Mikey Wilson, LaQuinta Rorie, Josh Spikes, Cierra Brown, Larry Howell, Angela Barrett, Mikey Ingle, Amber Bradley, David Wilson, Johnida Smith and Jarvis Bridges.

The 1900 "Sixteen Tons" were Mark Parker, Quantrel Smith, Tyrell Fuller, Todd Martin, Josh Izokovic, Jason Navy, Justin Williams, Shiloh Stewart, Mitchell Heavener and Chris Frye.

Dustin Beam and Arlene Pugh introduced the 1905 version of "Put A Nickel in the Nickelodeon" including Melissa Beck, Sierra Stewart, Allison Borders, Katie Auten, Antonio Williams, Chelsy Hoyle, Brandy Sauls, Sarah Allen and Sonya Dunlap.

"Goodbye My Coney Island Boy," from 1913 was presented by Demetric Ross, Latoya Kilgore, Sonny Neill, Nola Henderson, Casey Ross, Tiara Wilson, Scott Washington, Ashley Maddox, Steven Vandergrift and Heather Bradley. "By The Sea" was presented by LaToya Howell, Lisa Bingham and Christie Huntsinger.

The year 1917 was remembered with "Over There" by Clay Costner, Michael Peace, Clay Stamey, Courtney Baxter, Devin Nolan-Bader, Kenny Glymph, Daniel Beam, Kevin Washington and Dayne Hamrick.

The 1920 era's "Alexander's Ragtime Band" was presented by Ebony Hopper, Michelle Varner, Amber Snyder, Shauna Porter, LaChanda Broome, Tierra Robbs, Chrissy Buchanan, Melanie Varner, Michelle Murray, Heather Brown and Mercedes Owens.
