The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white satin gown featuring a flowing semi-cathedral length train and bouffant skirt, both hemmed in beaded and sequined, reembroidered Alencon lace. The bodice featured a Basque waist, a Sweetheart neckline and short shirred sleeves with soft rosettes accenting the shoulders. The illusion veil, which had been worn by the bride's mother, was attached to a halo of flowers and pearls, designed and made by the bride's grandmother. She carried a cascading bouquet of white roses accented with Stargazer lilies, ivy and baby's breath.
