MOUNTIES

From 6-A

hands with almost every basket in the second half until the Mountaineers took a 37-33 lead with three minutes remaining.

Carolyn Duckworth, who had been held scoreless after scoring eight points in the first quarter, hit a three-point goal to get Mooresville back in the game.

With Mooresville leading 39-37, the Lady Blue Devils turned the ball over on two consecutive trips down the court in the final 15 seconds. But Kings Mountain missed the front end of a one-in-one after the first Blue Devil turnover, and after the second one with 11 seconds left KM held for a last shot but Candace Moore's three-point attempt with one second left bounded high off the rim and over the top of the backboard.

"Mooresville has a good ball club," said Coach Leigh. "Their man-to-man gave us some problems early. We had to make a few adjustments, and the girls played hard to get back in the game and take the lead.

"To have a close game against a pretty good club in the first game, you have to be pretty well pleased," he added. "We have some little things we have to work on, but I thought Kisha Hamrick and Jacque Hall did a good job for us offensively."
