

Wedding

MRS. JEFFREY LEE KALE
(Julie Suzanne Crofts)

Crofts-Kale

Bethel Baptist Church in Shelby was the setting Saturday for the 6 p.m. wedding uniting Julie Suzanne Crofts and Jeffrey Lee Kale.

The Rev. Erwin Mendel Stalvey Sr. of Bennettsville, SC, great uncle of the bride, officiated the ceremony.

Cleveland Arnold Rayfield, soloist, and Libby Cecil Alexander, organist, presented the nuptial music.

The bride was given in marriage by her father. She wore an elegant jasmine couture gown of natural raw silk. The neckline and capped sleeves were trimmed in bias silk piping. The bodice of pearl and sequined lace appliques featured a Basque waistline. Appliques cascaded down the front, sides and back of the full skirt that extended into a Chapel train. Lovely bouquets of silk rosettes enhanced the back waist. Her veil of silk illusion was held by a cap of silk rosettes with pearls and sequins. She carried a hand-tied French garden bouquet of white roses, lilies and bouvardi. She also carried a handkerchief edged with the lace and seed pearls from the fabrics used to fashion her mother's wedding gown.

Mrs. Christy Lail Cook of Boiling Springs was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Gena Kale Hallman of Cherryville, Mrs. Caroline Long Ruch of Oakridge, Ashley Jean Stalvey, Angel Christina Stalvey and Kelly Elaine Stalvey, all of Shelby.

Historical structures to be shown

What's in our neighborhood?

That's the topic of a slide program showing historical structures in the Kings Mountain area that will be shown by the Cleveland County Historic Preservation Task Force Sunday, July 27, at 3 p.m. at the Kings Mountain Woman's Club.

Mary Neisler, a member of the committee, will assist Brian R. Eades, who has conducted an architectural survey of the area, in presenting the program to which the public is invited.

Architectural Historian Eades said the slides will show significant structures in Kings Mountain, Grover, Waco, Patterson Springs, Earl, and Lattimore.

Mrs. Neisler said the county-wide architectural survey began last September and Eades is over halfway through the project which has been awarded a second grant in the amount of $15,000. He has surveyed 350 properties in the Southern end of the county with 350 properties remaining in Fallston, Lawndale, Belwood, Polkville, Casar and Shelby.

Significant properties, according to Eades, include the circa 1916 George Elam Scruggs House, birthplace of Earl Scruggs; Broad River Academy, a circa 1870 frame one-room school; the Ramseur-Surratt House, a circa 1830 two-story brick Federal dwelling located on Dravo Road; Kings Mountain's Central School, which possesses a fine collection of Queen Anne, Colonial Revival, Tudor Revival and minimal traditional architectural styles; the Clarence and Ellen Plonk Farm, a vast working farm dating to the early 20th century where hogs are still slaughtered each fall and large hams cure in the historic frame smokehouse. The Waco Community Building was built by Roosevelt's National Youth Administration in 1939-40 and is a unique structure constructed entirely of rough cut fieldstone. The property is also significant because it was one of the NYA's last projects to be completed before the United States' entry into World War II in 1941, thus symbolizing the end of the Great Depression and the beginning of the 20th century's greatest armed conflict.

Other outstanding properties in the county, according to Eades' research, include the Captain Oliver Holland House, a mid 19th century two-story house famous for its association with Miracle Farm Day and Gardner-Webb University. The strategy behind Farm Day, August 21, 1950, was to transform the 182 acres of barren land into a working farm within 24 hours. Upon completion, Gardner-Webb students would participate in a work-study program at the site. Distinguished guests at the momentous event includes North Carolina Governor W. Kerr Scott, U. S. Senator Clyde Hoey and radio personality Grady Cole.
