Herring hired by city, Roberts is transferred

Two personnel changes at City Hall have been announced by City Manager Jimmy Maney.

Kathy Herring, former assistant purchasing agent for the City of Gastonia, has been hired as purchasing agent and Carole Roberts, former administrative assistant in the planning and codes department, has been transferred to the Human Resources Department as administrative assistant to Human Resources Director Pat Blanton.

Planning Director Steve Killian is advertising for the position being vacated by Roberts who was a former human resources official for 13 years with KMG Minerals and has been with the city for over a year.

Herring has 13 years experience in purchasing and is a graduate of Appalachian State University and requires the completion of one course to attain the title of certified purchasing manager.
