Bikes to be given away at Cleveland County Fair

The Goodness Grows Kids Club, a program sponsored by the North Carolina Department of Agriculture and Consumer Services, will be giving away two bicycles this year at each North Carolina county fair. Children ages 5-12 can register for the bicycle drawing by finding five NC agriculture-related words hidden around each of the county fairgrounds. One bicycle will be displayed at the fair and the other at NC Farm Credit Service in uptown Shelby.

Jim Graham, NC Commissioner of Agriculture, said, "We believe this contest is a great way for youngsters to not only get involved at their county fairs, but to have a good time learning about NC agriculture."

The contest is sponsored by the NC Farm Credit Service, Carolina Electric Cooperatives, and the NC Department of Agriculture and Consumer services.

Morgan Vassey is crowned Cleveland County Junior Miss

Morgan Vassey won the title of 1999 Cleveland County Junior Miss in the annual competition held Saturday, August 8 at Shelby High School's Malcolm Brown Auditorium. The panel of six judges also named her winner of the Physical Fitness and Presence and Composure portions of the competition. She received a total of $1,500 in scholarships which will be paid to the college of her choice.

Miss Vassey, daughter of Roger and Jackie Vassey, is a senior at Crest Senior High School, where she is captain of the cheerleading squad and an honor student. She plans to attend Appalachian State University and study Elementary Education.

The first runner-up was Sarah Ousley, daughter of Ben and Emily Ousley, and a senior at Burns High School. She was also named winner of the Judges Interview and was voted the Spirit Award by her fellow contestants. She received a total of $1,100 in scholarships.

Kristen Horne, daughter of Chris and Jean Horne, was second runner-up. The Shelby High School senior also won the Scholastic Achievement portion of the competition. She received $750 in scholarships.

Beth Lackey, a senior at Burns High School, won a $250 scholarship for winning the Creative and Performing Arts portion. She presented a vocal performance of "Sixteen Going on Seventeen" from "The Sound of Music." She also earned a $100 savings bond for collecting the most support signatures.

In January, Miss Vassey will compete in the state Junior Miss program in Greensboro. If she is named North Carolina's Junior Miss, she will travel to Mobile, AL in June to take part in the America's Junior Miss finals. Approximately $5 million in college scholarships and awards is presented annually to contestants at the local, state and national levels.

The Cleveland County Junior Miss program is a project of the Cleveland County Jaycees. The America's Junior Miss program is sponsored nationally by Coca-Cola. It also receives support from the City of Mobile, Mobile County, and the State of Alabama.

CITY HALL DISAPPEARING - The old Kings Mountain City Hall/Law Enforcement Center is quickly disappearing. City firemen are removing and salvaging the old concrete steps in front of the building to be used at the fire museum. The firemen also last week salvaged the cupola and police communications tower to be used in the future at either the fire museum or a new fire station. Soon the building will be demolished and the lot cleared to make way for a new $1.6 million law enforcement center.
