Huffman sewing seeds of hope

The Spirit of Christmas is being shared by a Kings Mountain family sending seeds of hope to Russia.
Seeds to plant in the spring and warm winter woollens are going to families in the Ukraine as a Christmas present from Ted Huffman and his brothers and sisters.
Huffman is making his fifth trip to Russia the day after Christmas. Although he has carried King James Versions of the Bible printed in Russia the other four times abroad, this time Ted's suitcases will be packed with seeds and warm clothing.
Ted's wife, Lara, a native of Russia, is already in her homeland for Christmas. Her story of the plight of many people in the Ukraine led Ted, his siblings and First Wesleyan Church of Kings Mountain to start a missionary effort to a country far from Kings Mountain.
As the large Huffman family bought gifts for their own children and grandchildren this week they bought extras for people they will never see and enlisted the help of friends Sheila Irvin and Sharon Hawkins in collecting winter clothes, basic medicines and gifts for the adults and children. Ted took his wife to the Charlotte Airport December 10th armed with suitcases filled with warm clothing. Saturday See Huffman, 11A
