

Children in the Kids Etc! program at Bethware School recently received a lesson in Sign Language from Allene Williams. Mrs. Williams, whose own daughter lost her hearing around 13 months of age, explained the differences and similarities between English and Sign. She explained how deaf children leave home at age five to live at schools for special instruction and learning. She also pointed out that there is only one college for the deaf in the U.S. - in Washington, DC. The children were captivated by Mrs. Williams' lesson, appreciating and better understanding how the hearing impaired live and experience everyday life.

Dr. James Mason recently visited the children at the East Elementary Kids Etc! program. He talked about vision and the importance of eye care and safety. He also showed a video about the different parts of the eyes and how they work together.

Quick action saves major damage at Margrace fire

A grass fire caught a 6x6 fire-hose building on fire at Margrace Mill Sunday night at 9:25 p.m. and was quickly put out by firemen from the Kings Mountain and Bethlehem Fire Departments.

Kings Mountain Fire Chief Frank Burns said a caller to the Bethlehem Fire Department alerted firemen of the blaze.

"We were fortunate that someone saw the fire because with the wind blowing as it was this could have been a very bad blaze," said Burns.

The burned building was located beside of a block building which was undamaged. Had the burned building been located beside of a wooden structure the blaze would have been harder to control, said Burns.

Damages were estimated at $1500.

Bunch Inc., 601 Margrace Rd., owns the Margrace mill complex.

Firemen are continuing their investigation of a "suspicious" house fire Sunday. Burns said firemen responded to a fire alarm at 2:30 p.m. at the home of Susane D. Ransom, 215 Fairview Street, and found the living room on fire. Damages were estimated at $500.
