

Woman's Club holds fall festival

The Kings Mountain Woman's Club invited the public to its annual Fall Festival Floral Fair at their Clubhouse on October 20. Over 1,000 people attended, of which 800 stayed to eat. The Woman's Club Bazaar cleared $953 from the event.

Pat Childers, chair of student arts and crafts, extends thanks to teachers for encouraging their students to place work in the student art show. Middle school and high school student entries were judged. All participants received a ribbon. The judges were A.B. Snow and Margaret Dixon. First place ribbons were awarded to Amy Phillips, Kenny Grant (2), Christina Watson, and W.M. Moore. Peggy Baird, chair of adult arts and crafts, thanked the adults for placing their art and crafts for display. She was especially pleased with the attractiveness of the art rooms.

There were 116 horticulture entries, 16 Niches, and four tables. Forty-seven blue ribbons were given, along with 38 red ribbons, 16 yellow ribbons, and 13 white ribbons. Special ribbons included Best of Show, Tri-Color Award, Awards of Merit, Table Artistry, and Designer's Choice.

Tables in the table division were open to the four garden clubs and to the Woman's Club. The standard system of judging was used. Magnolia Garden Club won the blue ribbon for its table as well as the Best of the Show and Table Artistry ribbons. Kings Mountain Garden Club received the second place red ribbon. Town and Country Garden Club took the yellow ribbon and Honorable Mention went to the Open Gate Garden Club.

Exhibitions were open to the public in the niche division. This year, niches were divided into four classes with four niches in each class. In the "Autumn Beauty" class, a blue ribbon and the Tri-Color Award went to Louise Roberts of the Open Gate Garden Club. The red ribbon went to Town and Country Garden Club. The yellow ribbon was awarded to Magnolia Garden Club which used Scott Neisler's beautiful dahlias. The white ribbon was awarded to Sarah Frances Faunce who designed her niche of dead flowers in memory of club member Eloise Crawford.

In the "Magic of Christmas" class, Mary Pat Elledge won a blue ribbon, Open Gate Garden Club with Margaret McCarter won the red ribbon, Magnolia Garden Club took the yellow ribbon, and Town and Country Garden Club received the white.

In the "Look to the Future" class, a blue ribbon and the Designer's Choice went to Esther Muench and the Magnolia Garden Club. The red ribbon was given to Town and Country Garden Club, the yellow ribbon to Open Gate Garden Club, and the white ribbon to Mary Pat Elledge. In the "Down by the Sea" class, Town and Country Garden Club won the blue ribbon, Sarah Faunce took the red ribbon, Open Gate Garden Club won the yellow, and Hazel Jackson earned the white ribbon.

HARRIS

From 5A

The bridesmaids wore long rosewood colored crepe back satin dresses. The dresses had a low back with scattered pearl flowers. They carried a bouquet of roses and wore pearl earrings given to them by the bride.

The flower girl, Ms. Elizabeth Grace Parker of Marietta, Georgia, wore a long tulle dress with a beaded lace bodice with layers of gathered tulle for the sleeves. The halo for her hair consisted of fresh flowers.

Michael Ross Caplan of Houston, Texas, served as the groom's best man. Groomsmen were Stephen Bradley Byington, Lars Henrik Jorgensen, and Robert Todd Lindsley, all of Houston, Texas, Gary William Hampton and Fred Neal Tillman of Austin Texas, Jason Kenneth Jones of Manchaca, Texas, Mitchell Kenton Garrett and Timothy John Termeer of Montgomery, Texas, and Kenneth Allen Linton of San Antonio, Texas.

Serving as ushers were Jay Oshman Gerson, Darryl Jay Wiesenthal, Thomas Christopher Knowles, Aymen Tamer Michael, Christopher Bryan Proler, and Andrew Wallace Matthews IV, all of Houston, Texas.

George Godwin Parker of Marietta, Georgia served as the ring bearer.

The registry attendants were Ms. Carol Elizabeth Kinneman, cousin of the bride, of Hollywood, Florida, and Mrs. Kellie Lynn Tolar of Pasadena, Texas.

The bride is a graduate of Sam Rayburn High School in Pasadena, Texas and a 1991 graduate of Stephen F. Austin State University with a BA Degree in Elementary Education. She received her Masters in Education and Community Counseling (LPC) from Stephen F. Austin State University. She is a member of Alpha Chi Omega Sorority. Elizabeth is a partner of John O. Harris Interest in Pasadena ad a partner of Harris Funeral, Inc. of Kings Mountain.

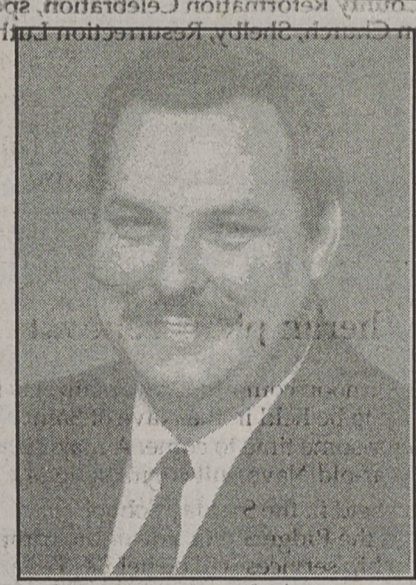

The groom is a graduate of Conroe High School and a 1989 graduate of Southwest Texas State University with a double major degree in Business and Communications. He is employed at Tel Tex Data Communications as a Networking Consultant.

Following a honeymoon trip to the Turks and Caicos Islands in the British West Indies, the couple will reside in Houston.
