Smith brothers donate stained glass windows to Trinity Episcopal Church

Edward Henry Smith and Nicholas Arthur Smith have given 12 stained glass windows depicting the apostles to Trinity Episcopal Church in Kings Mountain. The gift was given in memory of their late parents, Edward Arthur Smith and Eloise Moss Smith, and of Ed's late wife, noted author Elizabeth Simpson Smith.

Elizabeth Simpson Smith authored 11 books on a variety of inspiring subjects. She had also been a partner in a Charlotte advertising agency.

The dedication of the windows will be Palm Sunday, April 16. The Bishop of the Diocese of Western North Carolina, the Right Reverend Robert H. Johnson, D.D., will officiate at the dedication and communion service at 3 p.m. The public is invited.

Edward Arthur Smith was one of the charter members who established the church in 1954. Eloise Moss Smith transferred her membership from St. Martin's in Charlotte to Trinity Episcopal in 1958. Edward Henry and Nicholas Arthur

Smith were both confirmed at Trinity Episcopal.

Trinity Episcopal Church has been a part of the religious community of Kings Mountain since September 26, 1954, when a group of people gathered in their homes to worship in the Episcopal tradition. The first Episcopal church service proper in Kings Mountain took place in the Kings Mountain Woman's Club with the Reverend Floyd Finch officiating.

The charter group of Trinity Episcopal purchased the church's lot at 303 Phifer Road from the Paul N. "Sy" Neisler on October 23, 1958. Ground breaking services were held in January, 1960. Other notable dates in the history of Trinity include June 5, 1960 when the parish house was dedicated, September, 1960 when the first class of Trinity Episcopal Day School was enrolled, August, 1966 when the steeple and two classrooms were added, and July 16, 1995 when church members dedicated the new "A-frame" roof.
