Faces at the Relay

Kings Mountain folks turned out in huge numbers Saturday for an abbreviated Relay for Life. Despite a storm on Friday which delayed the beginning of the planned 24-hour event until Saturday morning, over 15 teams showed up to walk and raise money to find a cure for cancer.

Smart investment. Brilliant move.

Skilled investors typically spread their investment dollars across several investment options in order to achieve their financial goals. The problem is that you usually have to invest with several different financial institutions to get the best values in each category. Not anymore!
