BUFF From 10A

even more aware of the danger when they get older."

Buff has already set up a schedule of appearances at local elementary schools like East, North, and West. He plans to expand his coverage in the near future. As part of the DARE program, Buff will be giving students workbooks that shows methods to resist drugs and violence in ways that they can relate to. Buff says that learning to resist peer pressure is one of the biggest problems many kids have in resisting drugs.

"DARE is an excellent program," Buff says. "It not only educates the students, it takes that knowledge and shows how to put it into practical application in the fight against drugs and violence."

KMHS football coach Dave Farquharson presents Player of the Week awards to Matt Bridges, left, and Daniel Mason for their outstanding play in last week's win over Bessemer City. Bridges was a perfect 7-for-7 in extra points. Mason led the team with 12 tackles, including six
