Eaton lays off workers

BY ALAN HODGE Staff Writer

Eaton Corp. transmission factory near Kings Mountain reduced its workforce by 79 more workers Wednesday. Added to the 82 workers who were laid off in October, the plant has seen 161 employees head out the gates.

According to plant manager Larry Miller, the layoffs became necessary when orders dropped due to a fluctuation in the business cycle brought on by higher fuel prices, interest rates, and truck inventories.

"We have a good team and we have invested a lot in training them," Miller said. "Based on our business plan we hope to have the workers back by late spring or early summer."

Those laid off are due to receive holiday pay and benefits through the end of January. In addition, they will get help in signing up for unemployment and Eaton is working with outplacement services to find them other work.

"Business is slow right now," said Miller. "It has been a very difficult task to determine the market. Any upkick in business could see the workers called back sooner."

The Kings Mountain Eaton plant is located on U.S. 29/74 and normally employs 440 workers. Other major corporations nearby include Mayflower Vehicle Systems and UMG.

Freightliner workers approve new contract

Freightliner LLC and the United Auto Workers (UAW) announced ratification of a new three-year labor agreement affecting approximately 2,350 employees at Freightliner's Mount Holly Truck Manufacturing plant.

The new contract calls for three annual wage increases. The top wage for the majority of employees in the truck assembler classification will be increased to $21 per hour effective December 18. This is equivalent to the top pay in all of the company's other U.S. truck manufacturing plants.

At issue were bonuses paid and salary increases granted to all other facilities during the past year. Included in the agreement are a one time $2,000 retroactive bonus and a $500 partial wage differential payment to bring the Mount Holly plant to parity with the company's other non-UAW represented plants. In addition, the company agreed to provide equity to Mount Holly in future recognition bonuses [planned for or otherwise granted to its employees. Also agreed to were some administrative changes to the current UAW agreement.

Bloodmobile visit at Grace Methodist

The Cleveland County Bloodmobile will be at Grace United Methodist Church December 21 from 1:30-6 p.m.

This is the annual chili and T-shirt visit.

Cleveland County Red Cross Director Rick Dancy said the gift of blood is always important, especially during the holiday season when thousands of patients in area hospitals will need blood.

"More than 1,500 people need blood in our region each day," says Dr. Jerry Squires, executive director of the Carolinas Blood Region of the American Red Cross, which serves 110 hospitals in the Carolinas, Georgia and Tennessee. "The need for blood doesn't go away during the holidays. A single blood donation a mere hour of someone's time, can save the lives of at least three people. I can't think of a better way to celebrate the season."

Donors must be at least 17 years of age, weigh a minimum of 110 pounds and be in general good health.
