KRISTEN CAMILLE MAUNEY
(Bride-elect of George E. Sain II)

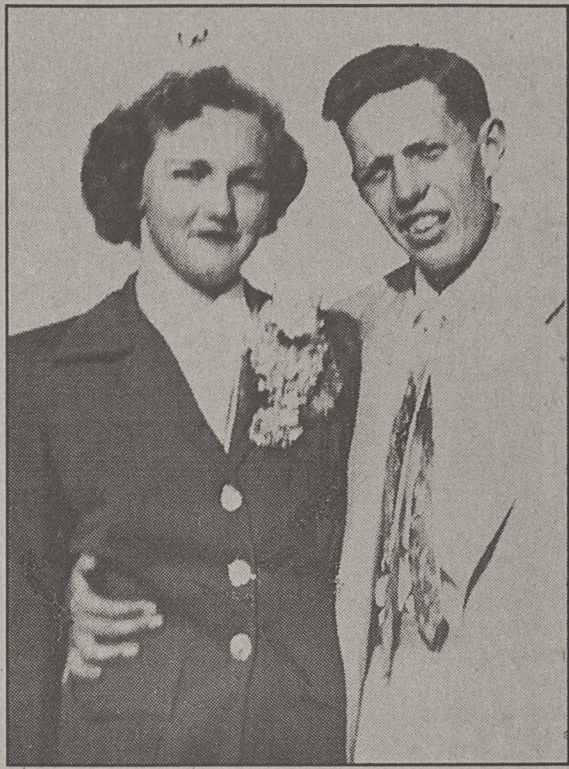

Mauney-Sain

Clark and Kathy Mauney of Cherryville announce the engagement of their daughter, Kristen Camille Mauney, to George E. Sain II of Vale.

The bride-elect is a graduate of West Lincoln High School and Central Piedmont Community College at Charlotte. She is employed with Tripps Restaurant in Hickory.

The prospective bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Sain of Vale. He is a Marine Corps veteran, a graduate of Appalachian State University, and is an accountant with George E. Sain & Company in Lincolnton.

The couple plans a May 5 wedding at Trinity Lutheran Church in Vale.

STROUPS ON WEDDING DAY

STROUPS ON 50TH ANNIVERSARY
MR. AND MRS. LEHMAN STROUP

Mr. and Mrs. Stroup note 50th anniversary

Lehman and Rachel Stroup celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary March 24. They were married 50 years ago in Gaffney, SC.

They were given a reception at Oak Grove Baptist Church in Kings Mountain by their children: Dennis and Doris Stroup, Steve and Belinda Lankford, Raymond and Jane Galloway, and Roy and Debbie Putnam.

The couple celebrated with a four-tier wedding cake that was decorated with spring flowers. Guests included family and friends who traveled from as far away as Florida, Virginia and Arkansas.

Cleveland College hosting Wings and Water Art Show

The gallery at Cleveland Community College is hosting "Wings and Water", a show featuring the works of Shelby native Lea Lackey-Zachmann. The show will be on display until May 8.

A graduate of Winthrop College, Lackey-Zachmann earned a Masters of Fine Art in Painting from UNC-Greensboro. She is currently an adjunct professor of Drawing, Printmaking, Art Education, Crafts, Art History, and Human Dimensions of Art at High Point University. She has twice been a visiting instructor at Wake Forest University. She lives in Winston-Salem and has had numerous solo and group exhibitions in both North and South Carolina.

The Magnolia Garden Club met at the home of Sandra Murphrey on March 26.

Following snacks, Beth Baker introduced Nancy McGill who presented the program "Beauty in Flight" about attracting butterflies to the garden.

McGill mentioned that she had only seen two or three so far this spring. Butterflies especially like to fly in warm temperatures from 86 to 104 degrees Fahrenheit.

Butterflies seem to be flying aimlessly from place to place, especially in springtime. However, their flight is not aimless. Females are looking for host plants and places to deposit their eggs. Males are looking for mates. The butterfly caterpillar needs host plants to nibble. These holes do not harm the plant itself.

McGill explained the stages of a butterfly's growth. The butterfly eats the shell of its egg when it hatches. It becomes a chrysalis for seven to 14 days or longer depending upon the type of butterfly it is.

A butterfly lays a lot of eggs but few survive. Out of 100 eggs laid from one butterfly, only two or three will live to adulthood. Birds eat butterfly eggs as well as the adults. They also nip butterfly wings. The Monarch butterfly gives off a disagreeable odor which is used as a form of defense. Butterflies ingest food from a liquid source, usually nectar that comes from flowers.

Gardeners need to plant butterfly gardens to entice butterflies. Butterflies like mud puddles and damp places, sun, a rock to sunbathe, and protection from the wind. They are especially susceptible to pesticides.

Butterflies have the ability to distinguish colors. Their favorites are purple, pink, white, and yellow. They also like thistle, parsley, impatiens, sedum, cornflower, clover, daisies, lantana, phlox, lilacs, butterfly bush, yarrow, verbena, and candytuft. Butterflies do not use butterfly houses.

After the program, Phifer brought the business meeting to order. Murphrey and Geneva Caveny announced Magnolia Garden Club officers for next year. These include: President, Sandra Murphrey; Vice President, Edie Bridges; Secretary, Maxine Bennett; Treasurer, Dorine Ballard.

Murphrey also discussed beautification needs in downtown Kings Mountain. The club approved planting and caring for one of the downtown garden spots that are available.

The Gastonia Barbecue and Tour of Gardens was announced as well as the May 12th Kings Mountain Woman's Club barbecue, Foodline Fundraising Vouchers for May 7 and 9, and Swat a Litterbug postcards.

Esther Muench and Bess Phifer made a springtime arrangement using the theme, "In a Tall Container."

Each member present brought a "bulb" specimen from her yard. Food items were collected for the Kings Mountain Crisis Ministry.
