

WEDDING

MRS. DAVID PATRICK ELDER
(Robin Lee Warlick)

Elder-Warlick

Robin Lee Warlick and David Patrick Elder were married on November 23 at 6 p.m. at Myers Park United Methodist Church in Charlotte.

Dr. Ron L. Robinson and Dr. L. Thomas Richie officiated. Organist Lester Ackerman and soloist Linda Dixon provided the music.

The bride is the daughter of Jewel Robbs Warlick of Charlotte and John David Warlick of Kings Mountain. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. James Howard Robbs of Kings Mountain. She is a graduate of Wake Forest University and serves as vice-president of client services for Willis Re, Inc.

She was given in marriage by her father. She wore a diamond white, silk satin gown with a silk organza chapel length train. The formal dress featured a sabrina neckline and a basque waistline with elegant French pleats. The back of the gown had a rosette detail and covered buttons. She carried a bouquet of white blush roses.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Francis Elder of Greensboro. He graduated from the University of Maryland and completed his MBA at George Washington University. He is employed as contracting manager for Lucent Technologies.

Jennifer Warlick Holshouser of Winston-Salem served as her sister's matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Ashlee Coley, cousin of the bride, of Burlington; Deborah Chemerynski of East Millstone, NJ; Vickie Degges of Greensboro; Elizabeth Dellinger of Kings Mountain; and Wendy Enochs of Greensboro.

Junior bridesmaid was Kelly Elder, daughter of the groom. Guest register attendant was Georgene Lorusso of Greensboro. Program attendant was Julie Rikard of Kings Mountain.

Eric Thomas Elder of Marlton, NJ was his brother's best man. Groomsmen were Andrew Degges of Greensboro; Richard Elder, brother of the groom, of Sewell, NJ; Dr. Warren Holshouser, brother-in-law of the bride, of Winston-Salem; Edward Robbins, cousin of the bride, of El Paso, TX; and Sloan Weitzel of Apex. Ryan Elder, son of the groom, was ring bearer.

The bride's parents hosted the reception at The Tower Club of Charlotte. The groom's parents hosted a rehearsal dinner at the historic Dunhill Hotel in Charlotte.

After a honeymoon trip to Sedona, AZ, the couple will reside in Greensboro.

SOCIAL BRIEFS

Lunsford Jolley wins Religious Book Award

Lunsford Jolley of Boiling Springs recently received the Ethel W. Twiford Religious History Book Award at the North Carolina Society of Historians 61st annual awards banquet in Hickory.

Jolley was recognized for his book "Visions of Faith: The Sesquicentennial History of Kings Mountain Baptist Association: 1851-2001."

The presentation was made by president, Elizabeth Sherrill, of the Society. There were 15 entries in the category.

Many other awards were presented in various categories. Over 900 entries were received, and 105 received awards.

The North Carolina Society of Historians was formed in 1941 for the purpose of collecting, preserving, and perpetuating North Carolina's rich history.

Crowders State Park gets new look

More than three years of intensive work behind the scenes will soon be making an appearance at the visitor center of Crowders Mountain State Park near Kings Mountain.

By mid-December the exhibit hall will be emptied of current displays and the walls repaired and painted in preparation for new exhibits.

There will be exhibits on natural communities found in the park with profiles of resident plants and animals. Geologic history will be seen with colorful illustrations and rocks and minerals will be on display.

Visitors will be able to learn about the birds of Crowders Mountain as well as how to be good stewards of the park and the environment. The history of All-Healing Springs and Linwood College will be presented along with archeological artifacts.

Until the change the park will be presenting simple but interesting displays from the park's collection of posters and photographs.

Alzheimers Walk raises $13,000

The first annual Cleveland County Memory Walk raised over $13,000 for the Alzheimer's Association.

Over 200 walkers circled Lake Hollifield at Gardner-Webb University in memory of or in honor of someone with Alzheimer's Disease. Funds will be used for research and local programming such as a toll-free help line, support groups, caregiver counseling, and educational opportunities.

Top team winners were Wellington Hamrick, first place; Lavonia Baptist Church youth, second; and Gamma Beta Phi, third.

Top individuals were Beth Wesson, first; Kitty Hoyle, second, and Amanda Hoyle, third.

The bluegrass group Timber Ridge provided music while Dr. Terry Fern played the carillon for the opening ceremony, and Jim Belt sang for the closing service.

In the afternoon, Teralea Blanton held a Memory Crop with proceeds going to the Alzheimer's Association.

Sponsors for the walk were Wellington Hamrick Inc., Carillon Assisted Living, Summit Place of Kings Mountain Assisted Living, Alterra Sterling House, and Creative memories.

Next year's walk is tentatively scheduled for November 1. Anyone interested in helping plan the event should call Linda Cabiness at Life Enrichment Center, 484-0405.

For more information about the Alzheimer's Association, call the Western Carolina Chapter at 800-888-6671.

CLUBS

Tree of Love lighting set at KM Hospital

Kings Mountain Hospital Auxiliary will have the lighting ceremony for the "Tree of Love" on Wednesday, December 4 at 5 p.m. in the lobby of the hospital.

Eddie Bridges will present Christmas music beginning at 4:45 p.m. Auxiliary President Peggy Baird will introduce John Young, CEO-Cleveland Regional Medical Center, who will give the welcome.

Rev. Kenneth Gillkin will give a short inspirational message followed by a music presentation by Billie Hicklin. Special angels will be presented to several people.

At the close of the program, the tree will be lit, followed by refreshments.

The public is invited. The Auxiliary will continue to take contributions for the Tree of Love through the month of December. A crystal angel will be placed on the tree in memory or honor of someone for a contribution of $10 or more. All contributions received will go to the scholarship fund for a high school senior going into a medical career.
