SPORTS BRIEFS

JV Mountaineers drop final game

Kings Mountain High's JV football team fell to Hickory 66-27 Thursday at Hickory's Frank Barger Stadium in their final game of the year. The Mountaineers finished their season with an 8-2 overall record, with their only other loss coming to Shelby in a non-conference game.

Ryan Burton, Johnny Phillips, Antwan Ross and Nate Marable scored touchdowns for the Mountaineers last week.

Despite the loss, KM Coach Dave Farquharson was proud of his team's accomplishments.

"That Hickory JV team is a machine," he said. "They are very good."

"But our JV kids have worked hard and stayed together and I think that's a real plus for our program."

Farquharson said many of the JVs will be counted on to contribute on the varsity level next year.

Captain's Choice held at KM club

Roger Painter, Jeff Painter, Daniel Hinson and Charles Watkins shot a 10-under-par 62 Saturday to win the Christian Women's Job Corps of Gaston County Captain's Choice Golf Tournament at Kings Mountain Country Club.

John Brack, James King, Rick Belt and Roy Wright finished second with a 64.

Third place was a tie between the teams of Cal Moore, Scott Rhyne, Brian Baack; and John Bridges, Thomas Bridges, Robert Scism and Wayne Maples. Both shot 69.

Rocky Ford won the closest to the pin contest and Robert Scism had the longest drive.

"Elect Tommy for Tomorrow." Tommy Hawkins, a resident of Kings Mountain is a man that symbolizes the true meaning of morals and values within his family, church, community, and work ethic. Hawkins is not only a loving husband, but also a father of three daughters, and a grandfather of five grandchildren. Tommy Hawkins is an active member of First Wesleyan Church where he serves as the President of a Men's Bible Class. Tommy uses his faith and love in the Lord as a tool for guidance in life's everyday endeavors. Mr. Hawkins is not only devoted to his family and church, but is also devoted to the well-being of his community in which he lives. Within Kings Mountain, Mr. Hawkins is very well-respected, honored, and praised for his hard work and efforts to improve the community. He is the President of the Exchange Club, in which he serves as a mentor for children, with a primary focus on crime prevention and education. These qualities also aid Mr. Hawkins in his career as an outside representative for Value Incentive. He is an outstanding staff member because of his tedious work ethic and determination to be the best in all aspects within his job. Not only is Mr. Hawkins an outstanding employee, but also an exceptional co-worker and friend to everyone at Value Incentive. With this in mind, remember
