Dr. Dill to speak at Cleveland CC

Dr. Karen Dill of Lenoir-Rhyne College will be speaking at Cleveland

Community College Auditorium Thursday, May 13 from 6:30-8:30 p.m. on "Video Violence and Its Effects."

"Video games are a part of the multi-million dollar media industry," according to Phil Weathers, Director of Student Services for Kings Mountain Schools. "While some of the games are good entertainment for children, others are so violent that the repetitiveness of the violence and the ability to allow the game player to place him/herself 'in the game' causes the player to become de-sensitized to the violence. There are dramatic examples of the relationship between teen violence and the playing of video games."

Dr. Dill will discuss ratings of video games as well as the negative behavior that may be displayed by some youth who are spending hours playing video games.

Parents, grandparents, social workers, therapists, teachers, ministers, youth leaders and others who may purchase video games or work with boys and girls who play video games, are encouraged to attend this free training session.

For more information, call Office of Juvenile Justice at 484-4877.

The music will include patriotic and religious favorites.

Letter carriers to collect food

The National Association of Letter Carriers, in conjunction with the United States Postal Service, will be collecting non-perishable food items like canned soup, juice, pasta, vegetables, cereal and rice on Saturday, May 8 to help families in need in the community.

Food items donated will be given to the Community Kitchen at Central United Methodist Church. The kitchen served its first meal on December 9, 2002 and is now serving an average of 140 people each Monday. The program also delivers 85 meals to homebound people that cannot get to the church. Meals are served every Monday from 11:30 a.m.-1 p.m. in the Christian Activity Center.

The public can donate to the project by placing food donations at the mailbox on May 8 before letter carriers arrive. The carriers will take the items to the post office and they will then be delivered to the community kitchen.

Do not include glass or perishable items.

Customers flock to new restaurant to Chat-n-Nibble

BY ANDIE L. BRYMER Staff Writer

The Chat-n-Nibble has been open for two weeks and regulars are already gathering in the mornings for hot coffee, fried eggs and grits, according to Julie Yawn, who opened the restaurant with her husband Jerry Yawn.

After years as an expeditor and purchaser for a machine shop, Yawn knew she was ready for a change.

"I enjoyed that but here you get to meet people all day long," she said.

Commercial kitchens are not entirely foreign to Yawn. Her parents ran a restaurant for 20 years in the family's native Kentucky.

After she made the decision to become a restaurateur, Yawn searched for a location. A friend who worked in sales noticed the empty building on North Piedmont Avenue. Yawn visited.

"I just fell in love with it. It snowballed from there," she said.

Black and white checkered flooring covers the counter area. Deep red carpet marks the dining room. The restaurant's name comes from a place her grandparents took Yawn and her sister as children after church.

"We racked our brains for a name. After she (Yawn's sister) said Chat-n-Nibble that was it," she said.

The Chat-n-Nibble was formerly occupied by Peggy's Restaurant.

"I would just love to meet her. I've heard so much about Peggy's Restaurant," Yawn said.

Chat-n-Nibble is open from 6 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. Monday through Saturday.

Some of the breakfast offerings include eggs, pancakes, grits, bacon and pork loin. Lunch specials like chicken breast and dressing, ham and macaroni, country style steak, meatloaf and vegetables change daily.

Cheeseburgers, clubs, smoked sausage, grilled chicken, fish sandwiches, chef's salad and homemade desserts make up part of the lunch menu.
