Woman's Club honors Cash as Club Woman with a Heart

Betty Cash was honored Thursday with the "Club woman with a Heart" award for her faithfulness, service and devotion to Kings Mountain Woman's Club. Presenting the award was Betty Gamble, who said Cash was a longtime member "who served in many ways and did so willingly and lovingly."

Vice president Betty Benton presided over the meeting which was hosted by the Home Life Department. Paula Vess of Cleveland Regional Hospital's "Spirit of Women" presented the program. She said women do not do a good job of taking care of themselves and although this health program has been in Shelby for only three years, they are making an impact on the area. Special programs will begin in the Kings Mountain area soon.

A devotion by Linda Dixon dealt with learning to pray by looking at one's fingers.

Helen Ayscue thanked the members for their participation in the recent catering of a luncheon for Boyce Memorial ARP's sesquicentennial celebration. She said $3,275 was raised for the Relay for Life event to be held April 28.

Ruth Mayhew was a first place winner at the State Arts Festival in Winston Salem with a crocheted tablecloth. She was also a third place winner in poetry. Student winners from Kings Mountain were Haley McDougal, first in poetry, Megan Ingram, first in short story, and Jamaica Steele, second in short story.

All departments have made Easter baskets and various firms around town have them on display. Tickets are $1 each and the money will go for Operation Smile, helping children with dental and mouth problems in poor counties.

Anne Gamble had set up a display at the City Hall business showcase and the club was awarded a second place ribbon.

Helen Ayscue was recognized for contributing the most volunteer service hours during the past month.

Candidates running in the primary will be special guests at the April 24 meeting. Visitors are welcome for the 7 p.m. question and answer time.

DAR chapter celebrates 90th year

Colonel Frederick Hambricht Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution recently celebrated its 90th birthday at the restored home of the organizing Regent, Mrs. Ida Pauline Neisler, at 510 North Piedmont Avenue.

Cindy and Mike Brown have restored the home. Mrs. Brown provided tours of the home. Elizabeth Ann Lancaster of the Flint Hills Chapter in Boiling Springs presented a program of music on a restored piano during a 3 p.m. tea.

Guests were greeted by Loretta Cozart, Chapter Regent, Juanita Caldwell, Becky Husky, Betty Masters, Robin Meyer, LeeAnn Hendricks, Ann Hoyle, Margaret Ledford and Betty Gamble. Guests were directed to one of the serving tables with a centerpiece of white roses and baby's breath. Hot tea and coffee were served along with sandwiches and other pick-ups to approximately 60 members and guests.

Attending were four State officers, the District II director, several city officials and their wives, and visiting DAR members from other area chapters. Many daughters brought along their daughters and granddaughters. Jackson Hendricks, a member of the Children of the American Revolution, carried the flag.

The Colonel Frederick Hambricht Chapter has 67 members. Four members will be attending the North Carolina State Conference in Durham May 19-21.

Mrs. Hollifield hosts meeting of Magnolia Garden Club

Magnolia Garden Club met last Tuesday at the home of Dianne Hollifield. Ten members were served refreshments.

President Maxine Bennett called the meeting to order. Molly Savage, program chairman, introduced the speaker, Dr. Jay Majors, who explained the work that chiropractors do. He illustrated to do's and don'ts of bending, stooping and lifting so as not to hurt one's back while gardening.

Dr. Majors handed out illustrated sheets depicting his back care program, samples of jell to put on sour muscles and complimentary tickets for initial visits.

Minutes were read and approved. The treasurer reported $183.54 in the treasury.

Two new members, Pat Schronce and Kay Davis, announced that they would start attending the club in the fall.

After discussion about flowers to plant uptown, Bess Phifer, treasurer, told Susan Kaiser she would go with her when she was ready to buy the plants.

The nominating committee presented the following officers: Maxine Bennett, president; Molly Savage, vice president; Glenda Colburn, secretary; and Bess Phifer, treasurer.

Hostess for the April meeting will be Sandra Murphrey, Teressa Ruppe will have charge of the program. Flower arrangements will be made by Glenda Colburn and Molly Savage using the theme "Spring Baskets."

Dementia program April 13 at KM Life Enrichment Center

Teepa Snow, a nationally recognized expert on dementia care, will present an interactive session for family and professional caregivers Thursday, April 13 at 5:30 p.m. at the Neisler Life Enrichment Center, 222 Kings Mountain Blvd., Kings Mountain

The program is free and reservations are not required.

"Teepa is the best I've ever heard," says Suzi Kennedy, executive director of Life Enrichment. "Her broad experience with dementia caused by a variety of illnesses, including stroke and Alzheimer's, has given her the knowledge needed to help others. Her presentations are always exciting and even fun."

A free sitter service will be available for the person with dementia, but a reservation is suggested. Call 704-739-4858.

Life Enrichment has facilities in Shelby and Kings Mountain to provide adult day health service and overnight respite for all-age adults who can't or shouldn't stay home alone.

For more information about LEC, call 739-4858 in Kings Mountain or 484-0405 in Shelby.
