

FACES of Kings Mountain

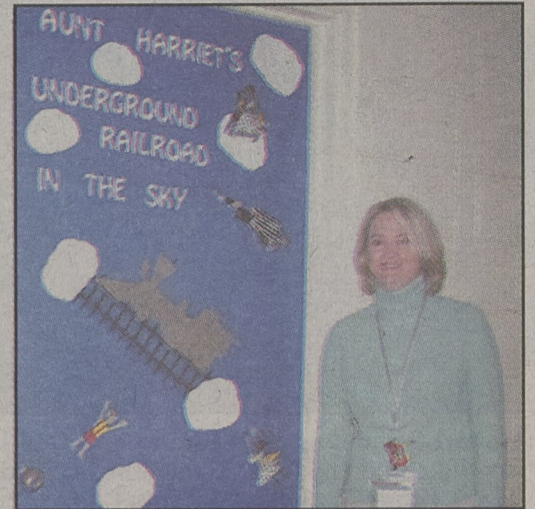

Photos by Emily Weaver

Left to right, Jordan Toney, Tyler Alexander, Mary Kathryn Lynn and Kevin Lynn gather around KMHS English teacher Doug Blackburn after school on Monday.

Josh Williams, left, stands with his father and President of Fortress Fire & Security Inc. Joe Williams in front of their interactive display at the Business Showcase.

Grover 1st grade teacher Ann Smith stands beside the door she decorated for Black History Month on the book "Aunt Harriet's Underground Railroad."

Grover 1st grade teacher Brandi Edwards (right) and assistant Tanya Gilbert stand beside the door they decorated for Black History Month on the book "Amazing Grace."

Grover 2nd grade teacher Lori Evatt (left) and assistant Janet Gardner stand beside the door they decorated for the book "Aunt Flossie's Hats."

Grover 2nd grade teacher assistant Karen Houze and students Diamond Garner and Russell Gregory stand beside the door they decorated for the book "Chicken Sunday."

Grover 3rd grade teacher Kathryn Blanton stands beside the door she decorated for the book "The Story of Ruby Bridges."

Grover 3rd grade teacher Amanda Mason (left) and assistant Sandra Mintz stand beside the door they decorated for Black History Month on the book "Cherries and Cherry Pits."

Grover 3rd grade teacher Miranda McDaniel (right) and assistant Mary Payne stand beside the door they decorated for the book "Sweet Clara and the Freedom Quilt."

Grover 1st grade teacher Susan Bridges stands beside the door she decorated for "The Drinking Gourd."

Premier Federal Credit Union Branch Manager Mark Kelly stands before his company's display at the Business Showcase.