

Moore Bethware marks students' achievements

It was all in a day's work for a nurse to assist with a circumcision, sutures, x-rays, fractures, physicals, etc. And they wore white caps, white hose and dresses, never pants. She was glad to see the change to white pants. Jean said she had the opportunity to work with professional nurses and doctors who are her friends today and many came to wish her happy retirement.

For over 14 years Jean has worked with Cleveland Medical Associates in Kings Mountain and for the past three years as Dr. Charles Langley's nurse, in a clinic teamed with Dr. Scott Mayse. Jean also worked with Dr. Frank Sincox and Dr. Syed Thiwan at the medical practice.

Thiwan, now in Suffolk, VA, wrote that "everywhere I have been since Kings Mountain I have set the goal for all my staff to meet the standards of service that I have seen you give with our patients."

"You have always been a true credit to your profession," said June Lee, widow of Dr. Joe Lee.

Hosting the retirement party were Jean's co-workers: Sharon Collins, chairman; office manager Jenny Shuford, Tommy Truett, Lavita Rhodes, and Lauren Cobb.

Daughter of James and Betty Brackett Falls and the late Lorena Falls, Jean is a Kings Mountain native.

Jean and Rick have two children: N. C. Representative Tim Moore and wife, Juli McRae Moore and Karla Drennan and husband, Randy, all of Kings Mountain. The three grandchildren are the family's pride and joy. The family is active in First Baptist Church, and Jean also belongs to a local investment club, Doughmakers.

Jean encourages young women to choose nursing as a career. She says she will miss friends but she's ready to move on and enjoy what could become a second career in a new business from home.

Winter Preparedness and Home Standby Generators - A Popular Emergency Solution

Western NC Piedmont - Winter season is now upon us. The National Weather Service predicts lower than normal temperatures and higher than normal precipitation for February, March and April 2010 in the Southeastern United States. This normally sets up the area for snow, sleet and ice. The last few seasons, North Carolina and South Carolina have enjoyed higher than normal temperature conditions leaving most in a complacent state. The area is prone to ice storms causing power outages to thousands. Area estimates show over 90+% possible loss of utility power to homes following a major storm.

Spoiled food, cold water, no heat, & limited access to the outside world can restrict one's ability to cope during such disasters. These types of inconveniences can truly test the resolve of anyone.

Central, Whole-Home, Standby Generators are becoming a common appliance and are being installed in thousands of homes throughout the Southeast to combat such inconveniences.

These 'Caretaker' systems provide unlimited, instantaneous power to your home anytime electricity is lost. They are powered by your own home's natural gas or propane, providing a seamless transition in comfort.

These 'Caretaker' systems are being professionally installed in our area by Mister Sparky, America's 'On-Time' Electrician.
