Cleveland County Farm Bureau earns YF&R Program Award

GREENSBORO—Cleveland County Farm Bureau was named the 2010 Young Farmers & Ranchers (YF&R) Program Award winner recently. The county's program was judged to be North Carolina Farm Bureau's (NCFB) most effective in promoting young farmer activities and goals throughout the past year.

L-R Mandi and Brian Parker and daughter, and Elton Braswell NC Farm Bureau Vice President.

The award ceremony took place during NCFB's 75th Annual Meeting, Dec. 5-7, at the Joseph S. Koury Convention Center, Sheraton Greensboro Hotel at Four Seasons.

"North Carolina Farm Bureau members continually seek opportunities to improve the quality of life of farm and rural neighbors," said Larry Wooten, president of NCFB. "County YF&R programs help prepare the next generation of North Carolina farmers to become agricultural and community leaders."

Cleveland County Farm Bureau's YF&R Program was involved in humanitarian and educational initiatives and activities during 2010, including the following events: attendance at the YF&R Leadership Conference and AFBF Annual Convention; school and daycare visits to read to children about agriculture and farm safety; a fundraiser for the 4-

H Calf Club; a Child Safety Day; and visits to Ashe, Cumberland and Duplin counties.

Cleveland Farm Bureau wins County of Excellence Award

GREENSBORO—Cleveland County Farm Bureau was named the 2010 County of Excellence Award winner today. The county organization was judged North Carolina Farm Bureau's most effective in implementing programs, services and activities that build active county Farm Bureaus and fulfill the mission of the organization.

The award ceremony took place during NCFB's 75th Annual Meeting, Dec. 5-7, at the Joseph S. Koury Convention Center, Sheraton Greensboro Hotel at Four Seasons.

"This award is presented to the county that executed the best all-around effort for the year, and Cleveland County Farm Bureau represented the best of what Farm Bureau stands for and strives to achieve through its grassroots structure," said Larry Wooten, president of NCFB.

County Farm Bureaus were evaluated on their development of public relations programs and enhanced communications with county leadership, legislative and policy development efforts, county board community service, leadership development and other ongoing non-profit activities.

W&B Trucking expands

W&B Trucking of Kings Mountain is expanding its presence at the Port of Wilmington.

W&B has been providing haulage services in Wilmington since March 2009 from its Kings Mountain headquarters off York Road.

The Council of State in Raleigh on January 11 approved the 12-month lease of 50,000 square feet of temporarily vacant warehouse space in the Port, giving the Kings Mountain-based trucking company space for its operations at the local port.

W&B's core business consists of domestic truckload common carrier, container hauler and distribution operation, with a long-term focus on North Carolina's global apparel and textile industry.

PPG supports Destination Cleveland County

Former PPG Shelby plant managers J.T. Scruggs and Tim Mathis promote Destination Cleveland County by a $17,000 donation from PPG Industries Foundation to the Rhythm & Roots capital campaign and its marquis projects, the Don Gibson Theatre and the Earl Scruggs Center.
