Area Boy Scouts honored for attaining Eagle status

Bridges' service project was clearing the creek area and building a foot bridge across the creek for students at Grover Elementary School. Clark made improvements to the grounds and exterior walls of the Kings Mountain Fire Museum, and Pillado's service project was building a stairway from the Kindergarten to the playground and bus lot at Grover Elementary School.
