Farmers Market Week

I know many of you celebrate our Kings Mountain Farmers Market EVERY week, but the week of August 3-9, 2014 has been declared National Farmers' Market Week.

This celebration is to recognize the Farmers, the markets in every area of the USA, the communities who host the markets, and the people who attend and facilitate them!

Kings Mountain's Foothills Farmers' Market will be celebrating the first two Saturdays of August with live music, demonstrations, tastings, and a photography contest. We will have balloons, drawings, and lots of fun activities!

Market shoppers can share their pictures, or write a statement about why the market is important to them. These can be shared to our FFM-KM Facebook page and the www.foothillsfarmersmarket.com website, or emailed to margot.plonk@gmail.com, for a chance to win a gift certificate to the market!

Despite last Saturday's rain, we had a successful market day, and lots of smiling faces in attendance! As farmer Busie Willis (Quail Hollow Farms) said on Saturday, "I picked it in the rain, I might as well sell it in the rain!"

Come out this Saturday to hear The Log Cabin String Band. They are an old time music group whose members hail from Kings Mountain, Vale, Shelby, Charlotte, NC and Rock Hill, SC. The band plays old time fiddle tunes with an emphasis on the traditional string band music of North Carolina and Southwest Virginia. The band members are: Brad Herndon (fiddle), Victoria Johansson (banjo), Lynn Eskridge (fiddle), Charles Watts (guitar), Tommy Forney (mandolin) and John Goldsbury (bass).

The group has enjoyed playing together over the years for events at the Kings Mountain Historical Museum, the Kings Mountain National Military Park, the Earl Scruggs Center and other local festivals and exhibits.

See you at the market this Saturday- Bring your clogging shoes & camera!
