

Local restaurants win awards

Two local restaurants – Sweet House Bakery and 238 Cherokee Grill – received awards in Kings Mountain's first restaurant festival which coincided with Kings Mountain Little Theater's Revolutionary War drama, "Liberty Mountain," June 26-July 19.

Local restaurant patrons voted on King's Feast specials and the awards were presented Tuesday morning to Sweet House Bakery, the 2015 Kings Chalice for most votes on the King's Feast Special and 238 Cherokee Grill, the 2015 Artisan award for most creative special.

Mayor Rick Murphrey, other city officials, and King's Feast committee members made the presentations.

Representatives of Sweet House Bakery, top, and 238 Cherokee Grill, bottom, receive the top awards in the recent first restaurant festival, King's Feast, as patrons gave the King's Chalice award to Sweet House Bakery for most votes and the Artisan award for most creative food special to 238 Cherokee Grill.

Free Blues Out Back Concert in Dallas

Gaston County Museum, 131 West Main St., Dallas, will host the performance of Jon Shain, as part of the 17th Annual "Blues out Back" free summer concert series Friday from 6:30-8 p.m. At Gaston County Museum.

JON SHAIN

This family friendly concert will take place on the lawn behind the museum and is sponsored by Akers Pharmacy. The museum encourages folks to bring along blankets, lawn chairs, and a picnic for an evening of great music with friends and family.

Jon Shain is a veteran singer-songwriter who's been turning heads for years with his words, his fiery acoustic guitar work, and his evolved musical style—combining improvised piedmont blues with bluegrass, swing, and ragtime. Shain's newest disc, the eclectic "covers" album called Reupholstered, was released in July 2014.

Growing up in a Massachusetts mill-town allowed Jon to learn and love American roots music. He moved to North Carolina to study American History at Duke University and to continue his musical journey. This decision provided Jon the life changing opportunity to learn the piedmont blues from some of the Carolina's iconic blues players such as Big Boy Henry and John Dee Holeman.

While living in his adopted hometown of Durham, North Carolina, Jon has refined his own contemporary version of the piedmont blues and cherishes the moments when he can bring the old musical styles to a new generation of listeners.
