Hold fast providing you have hold of the right thing.

Pants buttons are useless when an offering is taken for the savages of Africa.

Some persons are born mean and we pity them; others become mean and we shun them; but the meanest person is he who tries to be mean. The devil himself fears such a man.

It may be true that in the days of Washington the people could not distinguish between the truth and falsehood. That would solve a perplexing problem of our national history.

With living expenses so outrageously high, it is difficult to make both ends meet. As a rule, and by compulsion, we make one end oatmeal and the other end fried potatoes, and in the middle we are sometimes lucky to have smoked sausage.

In the darkest night we may hope for the dawn of a new day and we do not hope in vain. When the storm clouds hide the sun's bright face, we know that the sun still smiles and that those clouds will pass away. Looking on the bright side may be old-fashioned and hackneyed, but it has never failed to drive away the blues.

To speak the truth, the whole truth and nothing but the truth may be all right and essential in a court of law, but it would create havoc and disaster for a newspaper. Events are transpiring every week in our town, and elsewhere, we suppose that we dare not for the sake of domestic peace even mention, much less obey the law's mandate.

There are so many cures and aids to grow beautiful that it is no wonder any longer why we have so many beauties among us. The beauty of these aids to beauty do not give our less handsome maidens a square deal. The latest stunt out to acquire both beauty and health is bubble blowing. So don't be surprised to find Sallie in the kitchen blowing soap bubbles.

We know some men and some women, some are well on in years and some are inexperienced in life's school, who have a most insane, unreasonable view of manual labor. They act and speak as if it was a disgrace, a crime and a sin to soil your hands with honest toil. Their brains must be as soft as their hands, if they cannot see the dignity and necessity of the hammer or hold the saw.

It has been said that our present difficulty of making ends meet is not so much the high cost of living as the cost of high living. There is some truth in that, but it is not complete or satisfactory. For the last ten years the problem of existence has become more and more difficult. There is enough for all to live in comfort, but somehow the distribution has been unequal and unfair. Somebody has the advantage and the meanness to squeeze us hard, and we are squeezed until we sweat.

The old songs that used to touch the soul of our grandparents, are being forgotten in our rag-time age. When some old mother as she sits knitting the warm woolen stocking, tries to sing snatches of the songs favorite in her younger day, we seem to catch somewhat of their deeper and more helpful spirit. Those old songs had a wealth of sentiment and a human note which we do not find in our modern rag-time and doggerel songs. We hope that some day the standard of public taste will rise to its former level of common sense, and even to a higher level of art, as to draw out and to encourage songwriters worthy of the smiles of the music. The "Tra-la-boom-de-as" are rather too rudimentary for enlightened people to applaud.

STATE NEWS

Shelby, July 31.—Mrs. W. S. Johnson, who lives 3 miles above Casar, went out into her orchard last Friday and saw a ground-hog sneaking along under an apple tree looking for food. It had gotten too far away from its hole to get back before Mrs. Johnson called the dogs. The strange animal was chased under the house and, after fighting the dogs lively for a few minutes, it was killed. Mr. Johnson came home that night and skinned the animal and is preserving its hide. It weighed between 30 and 40 pounds and is the first ground-hog that has been seen in this section for years.

Durham, July 31.—Clarence, better known as "Kid" Morris, was arrested today in Cincinnati at the instance of Attorney R. O. Everett, from whom Morris is accused of having received $800 by forgery. This charge was made two years ago. Morris worked this loan through Attorney J. E. Pegram, who secured the money from Mr. Everett. The name of his sister was attached and real estate was the security for the money. The forgery was clever and got by the smartest men. It developed that there was nothing to it and Morris skipped. He has since been at large and dodged well. Morris is a printer and a magazine publisher, having been accused of fraud in that venture. He is crippled and has been saved by that misfortune. He has agreed to come back without requisition papers and will be sent for immediately.

Wilmington, Aug. 1.—After being out for less than two hours, the Superior Court jury which had in hearing the case against L. M. Sandlin, charged with the murder of his wife on June 25th last, returned a verdict at 4:20 this afternoon declaring the defendant sane and guilty of murder in the first degree. Sandlin showed no sign of emotion when the verdict was rendered. The verdict meets with the approval of the public generally and comments have been made on the streets tonight to the effect that there has been a decided change in sentiment in favor of law and order in the past few months, and especially has there been a great change relative to capital crimes. Sandlin shot his wife in their own home following a quarrel and then turned the weapon upon himself, inflicting a painful wound in the head. Evidence was adduced to show that as long as ten days before the homicide he told persons he had bought a pistol for this purpose.

Wilson, Aug. 1.—There is confined in the Wilson jail a lady on whom the hand of God has been ungenerally laid. She is in a pitiful condition, being almost hopelessly insane. She is in close proximity to a lot of negro strumpets, who have been sent up for vagrancy, and in her lucid moments can't help but hear their vulgar language. The sheriff is handling the situation the best he knows how. Application has been made to the asylum at Raleigh for her admission, but word comes back, "No room." Until the spirit moves the powers at Raleigh or until some one dies or is discharged from the asylum, this poor demented woman must necessarily be kept confined in our common jail to the annoyance and shame of the community. This is not the first time a person has been locked in the jail for being crazy (and we suppose it is so all over the State), and if such is the case, why is it that our law-makers fail to appropriate money to relieve the existing conditions? It is a mystery to the average voter.

Solves a Deep Mystery. "I want to thank you from the bottom of my heart," wrote C. B. Radler of Lewisburg, Va., "for the wonderful double benefit I got from Electric Bitters, in curing me of both a severe case of stomach trouble and of heartburn, from which I had been a most helpless sufferer for ten years. It suited my case as though made just every true, honest, righteous person is as willing to bear their part of the bitter as they are to receive their portion of the sweet.

I have tried to keep up fast meetings as often as twice a year, but it seems there is but few, if any, to come together and enjoy the heavenly feast. Prayer is not a flowery multitude of words, for there is more prayer in the sighing and groanings of the humble child of God than all the flowery words could ever express. If the Lord is not in our prayers, they are worse than worthless.

VETERANS AT WILMINGTON

Winston-Salem Selected The Next Place For Meeting

Senator Dixon Thanked For His Recent Tribute to North Carolina Troops In Speech in United States Senate—Address of Welcome and Response—Recitations by Ladies and Other Features—The Annual Parade Today. Wilmington, Aug. 2.—With a large attendance, ideal weather conditions and everything else which would tend to make for the comfort and convenience and pleasure of the visitors, the annual reunion of the North Carolina Division of the United Confederate Veterans is being held in this city today and tomorrow. Between 2,500 and 3,000 visitors are here to attend the event and of this number more than one-half are old soldiers who fought with such bravery for a cause they thought was right and whose ranks are each year becoming thinner. The local camp has provided well for its visitors and the "boys" are having a real good time in every sense of the word. There is nothing lacking to make the stay of the veterans a joyous one, and they appear to be having the time of their lives. Three large buildings in the downtown district are used as sleeping quarters and another is used as the mess hall, which is in charge of Capt. W. P. Monroe, commissary sergeant of the Second Regiment of the North Carolina National Guard, and approximately 1,000 men are being fed here. Other veterans are stopping at the hotels and boarding houses, all of which are well filled. The mess hall was in service yesterday at noon and will be open through Thursday.

Address of Welcome and Response. The sessions of the division were held in the Academy of Music today. The first session was called to order at 10 o'clock by General Julian S. Carr, of Durham, who presided. The opera house was crowded with veterans and others who had assembled there to hear the several fine addresses and other features of the program. After prayer by the chaplain of the division, Mayor Joseph D. Smith of Wilmington was introduced and made the address of welcome.

The response was made by Col. W. H. S. Burgwyn, of Weldon, a veteran, and who is well known throughout the State. He made a fine address and his audience was an attentive one. He received frequent applause.

Following a musical selection, the North Carolina Veterans' Memorial Poem was read by Mrs. H. D. Burkholder, of Charlotte, after which the prayer of the occasion, W. P. Stacy, Esq., of the Wilmington bar, was presented, and made one of the finest speeches ever heard on a similar occasion. A recitation by Miss Ruth Porter, of Charlotte, mascot of the Mecklenburg Camp, U. C. V., came next, and the concluding feature was a song, "Our President," by Miss Toon, of Wilmington. The song was copyrighted by Mrs. W. P. Toon, of this city.

At the afternoon session all division and brigade officers were re-elected. Winston-Salem was chosen as the next meeting place for the annual reunion. A resolution was adopted protesting against the use of the Gilliam History of the United States in the schools and colleges of the South. Another was adopted tendering the thanks of the North Carolina Division, United Confederate Veterans, to Senator Joseph Dixon, of Montana, for his defense of the part North Carolina troops played in Pickett's charge at the battle of Gettysburg in the Senate recently, and other important matters.

CONSIDER THE VALUE OF PRAYER

BY REV. J. R. DALL.

We are commanded to pray without ceasing. According to the Scriptures, it was a custom with Israel when God withheld his blessings to proclaim a fast and come together and ask God to restore his blessings and remove the plagues, and their prayers were sure to be answered.

The shortest fast we have any account of in the Bible, I believe, is three days. Christ said, "When the bridegroom is taken away, they shall fast." He also says, "This kind goeth not out only by fasting and prayer," when the apostles couldn't heal the one who came to them in the absence of Christ.

Consider the blessings which were bestowed upon such a number of wicked inhabitants in the doomed cities of Sodom and Gomorah when the angels, though sent by God, could not destroy them until this one righteous man escaped from danger.

It was a custom in my young days for the Christian people to proclaim a fast and come together in fasting and prayer when God withheld the rains, and it was sure to rain at once. The question would naturally arise: Why should we fast? It is an evidence that we are willing to cease from gratifying our carnal appetites and suffer in offering our bodies as "a living sacrifice holy and acceptable unto the Lord which is our reasonable service," as He has suffered so much for us. By fasting, our bodies soon grow weak and faint, which shows more perfectly our dependence upon Him for our daily bread; and also shows how soon we would grow weak and faint if we deny ourselves of spiritual food.

Let God's blessings be as bountiful as they may, we ought to fast twice a year, anyway, and also assemble ourselves together in His service that we may have a rich spiritual feast. If we are not willing to take up our cross and follow Him, I see no evidence of righteousness in us, for I am persuaded that every true, honest, righteous person is as willing to bear their part of the bitter as they are to receive their portion of the sweet.

I have tried to keep up fast meetings as often as twice a year, but it seems there is but few, if any, to come together and enjoy the heavenly feast. Prayer is not a flowery multitude of words, for there is more prayer in the sighing and groanings of the humble child of God than all the flowery words could ever express. If the Lord is not in our prayers, they are worse than worthless.

FREMONT HIGH SCHOOL

It Is Now One of the Best Schools In the South

Editor Record.—The Board of Trustees of Fremont High School met in a special session in Fremont to consider the needs of our popular and successful school. After a thorough investigation and a careful examination of the detailed report of our efficient superintendent, the trustees, consisting of Col. J. T. Hooks, president; Messrs. Jno. D. Davis, secretary; J. A. Best, treasurer; W. F. Flowers, D. D. Peele, J. B. Lane and E. L. Pippin, unanimously agreed that in consideration of the large number of students attending the High School who will not have an opportunity to go to college, which will now give seven full grades to the elementary school, and four years of nine months each to the High School.

The Board, also because of their great interest in the intellectual welfare of the children of this school, and of the increased attendance, added another teacher to the elementary school and placed the first grade alone under the tuition of one teacher.

The commercial department was made a permanent part of the school, and Miss Agnes T. Pittard, a first-class teacher of stenography, typewriting, English and commercial arithmetic was added to the school. This teacher will teach part of the high school course, giving four teachers part or all of their time to high school work.

It is desired to add farm life training domestic science, domestic art to the school as soon as the way may be open for it. The school offers not only a complete eleven years' course free to town and district and at a nominal tuition to all students outside, but complete through courses in bookkeeping, stenography, typewriting, music and elocution. While the school has a reputation for thorough, honest progressive work, second to none in Wayne county, it will, with added facilities and the excellent faculty, and the various departments, offer advantages seldom found in a graded school.

There were never seven more generous men put on a school board, who give their time freely and means when necessary for the interests of the children of their neighbors and fellow citizens. Prof. M. T. Edgerton, our popular, affable and most successful superintendent, was re-elected for the third term.

By his tact, experience and indomitable energy and by his knowledge of the real needs of the children and his great love for them he has given Fremont one of the best schools in its history. In 1888 he left this country, where he taught his first five years, and taught in South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas and Georgia, but when he was invited by his old pupils and school mates, who are members of the Fremont school board, to return to his old home and accept the superintendency of the Fremont Graded School, after a year's consideration, he assumed the head of the school and has given Wayne county and Fremont a school above criticism except of the most complimentary character.

The faculty for next year consist of Prof. M. T. Edgerton, superintendent; Mr. R. W. Hale, of Louisville, Ky., Principal; Miss Ethel Ware, Marshall, N. C., Sixth and seventh grades; Miss Willie Shorer, Blockburg, S. C., Fourth and fifth grades; Miss Annie Duke, Newton, N. C., second and third grades; Miss Lee Todd, Lagrange, N. C., first grade; Miss Agnes Pittard, Billock, N. C., Business Department; Miss Lois B-nbow, Alfred, Va., Music Dept.; Miss Susan L. White, Alfred, N. Y., Expression and Literature, Mrs. V. B. Edgerton, Oak Ridge, N. C. Home Dept.

HEARSE DRIVER DROPPED DEAD

Durham, N. C., Aug. 2.—While attending the funeral of James Cameron, the eleventh of the Durham victims in the Seaboard wreck last week, Deborah Jurell dropped dead this afternoon as the minister ended a prayer.

Jurell drove the pall bearer's wagon and was sitting upright while the ceremonies proceeded. Suddenly he fell from the wagon and died without a struggle. Paralysis of the heart was the cause of death. He was picked up and brought back to the city in the same wagon which he drove. He was a man sixty-three years of age.

OUR SEVEN SPRINGS LETTER.

BY W. W. PRICE.

Master Fred Hiner, of Kinston, is visiting relatives here. We regret to note that Master Grover Dale is confined to his sick room, and hope to see him out again soon. Dr. V. N. Seawell of Faison, arrived in the city Tuesday where his many friends are always glad to see him. Mrs. J. R. Murvin and daughter, little Miss Fawnie, spent part of last week with friends in your city, and enjoyed the stay to the fullest.

Mrs. Mary B. Loftin and little son Master Richard, of Durham, are visiting relatives and friends in and around this city where they are made quite welcome. Mr. G. G. Holland and daughter Miss Vera, of Beaufort, are spending several days in this city, visiting Mr. G. G. Quinn, Miss Maude Outlaw, of Dover, is also visiting at Mr. Quinn's.

Misses Alice and Della, the bright and interesting little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Atlas Price, of Price town, spent Wednesday night and Thursday in this city, being the guests at the home of your Seven Springs scribe. After spending several days at the home of her Uncle, Mr. Chas. Konegay, in Duplin county, Miss Estell Walker, returned home Tuesday, accompanied by Miss Katie Konegay, of Duplin and Miss Ida Copeland, of Fremont, who spent Tuesday night in this city.

Mr. S. D. Byrd, of Mount Olive, is in our town this week. It is needless to say that we are glad to see him, and he could find a welcome home back in this city another year—in fact we need several families of our good people who left some time back in search of a land that floweth with milk and honey back to help make time worth while. Mr. J. R. Murvin and several boys from Kinston, are on their annual fishing tour at Morehead City, this week. The madam received a card from Mr. Murvin, stating that they were having a fine time and catching many fish. As we know what kind of bait they are using we presume they are catching mostly suckers.

Young Lady Burned To Death.

Kinston, N. C. July 31.—Yesterday afternoon, while returning from church in a buggy with Mr. J. B. Garris, Miss Maggie Suggs, of Greene county, sustained burns which proved fatal. They had been attending a Sunday school convention at Hull's Cross Roads Church, in Institute township, and had started home, when suddenly the young lady's dress was discovered to be on fire. She jumped from the buggy and ran through the woods in a panic, and thus fanned the flames into a fearful blaze.

Her companion ran after and overtook her, and made heroic efforts to subdue the flames, sustaining burns on his hands which will probably mark him for life, but when the flames were quenched the young lady's body was so horribly burned that there was no hope of recovery. She was hurried home, where she died at 3 o'clock this morning.

Miss Suggs was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. T. Suggs, of Jason, Greene county. The origin of the fire is shrouded in mystery. Mr. Garris, the young lady's companion, does not smoke and had not used a match for any purpose. It is supposed that while they were in the church someone had occupied the buggy while smoking, and in this way set fire to some hay under the buggy seat, which smoldered until fanned into flames by the motion of the buggy and thus set fire to the young lady's dress, resulting in her death, as stated.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS.

Recent Sales Made by Mr. E. L. Edmondson. The following real estate deals have been made during the past 40 days by Mr. E. L. Edmondson, the wide-awake and progressive real estate hustler of this city, which not only classes him as a hustler indeed, but speaks well for Goldsboro and the confidence imposed in her future growth and prosperity by our own people.

Just think of it! More than $42,000 changing hands for real estate during the month of July, the dullest month in the year. It is very remarkable, yet it is a fact, as the figures below will show. Mr. Edmondson, in conversation with the RECORD man said, "I do not want to say that real estate is on any special boom, but that it is a safe investment in and around Goldsboro."

The list of sales follow, which speak for themselves: Mrs. S. E. Crumpler's house and lot on Elm St. to Mr. R. Daugherty, $2,550. Miss Adele Galloway's lot on John St. to Mr. Paul Yelverton, $3,000. Mr. B. Daugherty's house and lot on Slocum St. to Mrs. S. E. Crumpler, $1,000. Mrs. S. E. Patrick's house and lot to Miss Adele Galloway, $2,300. One farm north of this city to Mr. Frank Grantham, $6,000. Mr. Frank La-tham's house and lot on William street and E. L. Edmondson's house and lot on Holly street to Mrs. S. E. Patrick, $2,300. Two store and lot on W. Centre street to Dr. W. P. Exum, $3,100. Mrs. McDonald's house and lot on William street to Miss Annie Farrar, $1,950. Mr. Jesse E. Hales' lot on Daisy street to Mr. A. W. Scott, $490. One vacant lot of J. T. Edmondson, at Georgetown to F. R. Edwards, $450. Two tracts of land from the Messrs. Pearson, to A. A. Miller, $1,600. Mr. W. E. Ham's farm and store and four houses and lots and vacant property at Pikeville to Edmund Ham, $7,100. Two houses and lots in Little Washington to H. B. Parker for $310. Mrs. Cox's beautiful vacant property on John street to A. M. Shrago, $2,050. House and lot in north Goldsboro to Giles Hason, $1,000. Mr. Joe Pearson's house and lot at Bellevue to Mr. Frank Grantham $2,250. Three private deals amounting to $4,310. Making a grand total of $42,060.00.
