CCC AT BELL ISLAND

By Hugh Morris, Camp Cor. Camp Traditions

When this camp was first established the boys formed a few terms relating to camp life. Some of these terms have gone out of existence, and some are still used. The company strength is back to 200 men. A favorite expression that was coined and is still used is "The Two Hundred." There is a sense of pride in being able to say that, and it does not take long for a new man to fall in with the spirit of it.

With the arrival of new men in camp the fellows who have been enlisted for some time always greet them as "fresh meat." This expression is used in a jovial way, and new men seldom if ever, resent it.

It is very interesting to watch the changes that one week's experience in a camp brings about in the attitude of new men. There is a customary reaction the first night in camp. They are always noisy that night, even after the lights are out, mimicking one another, making barn yard noises, whistling and hooting. After the first night however, they are usually ready for rest and sleep.

Varied List of Tasks Performed By New Men

The men that came here July 16, had not been to a reconditioning camp. It was necessary to give them some preliminary training here. This is being done under the direction of Lieut. Saul L. Avner, camp surgeon. Lieutenant Avner had every man to go through a series of exercises last week. It was surprising to see how well these men performed these exercises.

Every new member has been given the smallpox vaccination, and will receive the third dose of typhoid inoculation this week. This among other things, has made it necessary for the men to work in the camp area.

The second boat load of lumber for the building of barracks arrived last week. The new men were assigned to the task of unloading lumber. Various tasks that these men have been doing include: unloading lumber, cutting wood, cutting grass and cleaning ditches.

Educational and Religious Programs Going Strong

There has been an unusual reading response since opening of the new library. The library is conveniently located in the recreation hall, and the boys are taking advantage of it.

The recreation hall is the center of both the educational and religious activities. It is being made quite attractive. Curtains have been placed at all the windows. A number of rocking chairs and straight back chairs have been bought, and quite a bit of interior carpenter work is being done.

A young peoples meeting has been organized. The first service was held Sunday evening. A Sunday school class is being organized. Sunday school services will be held on Sunday mornings.

With all these activities the recreation hall is all that the name implies and the carpentry work being done now includes this idea. For some time ping pong and checks have been popular indoor recreational games. Other games and equipment will follow.

Athletics

The Bell Island baseball team played the Pungo river team here last week. It was the first game since the team has been reorganized and the team was at some disadvantage. However, the boys have shown great spirit and took defeat from the Pungo boys—score 6-1—with a grin. The Bell Island team hopes to even up the score later on.

Swimming is still the most popular sport. The new men have taken quite an interest in swimming. Some of them have shown a great deal of skill.

The extremely hot weather has slowed down athletic activities; but plans are being made all along for greatly improved conditions.

Farm and Home Week Observed At State College

"Farm and Home Week" will be observed at the State college in Raleigh from July 31st through August 3rd. Interested farmers and their wives throughout the state and members of the 4-H clubs are expected to attend the meeting and take advantage of the short course offered. The delegates while there will visit Chapel Hill and Duke university. An interesting program has been planned for federation day. Furnished rooms in the dormitories, with the exception of bed linen, will be free and meals will be served at a nominal cost.

C. Y. Tilson, Hyde county agent, has recently organized three 4-H clubs in Hyde county and delegates from each of these clubs are expected to attend the meeting.

Regarding the work he is doing, Mr. Tilson, writes the Times as follows:

"In developing extension work in Hyde county I have emphasized 4H club work which is a part of the national agricultural extension system. Through it, rural girls and boys from 10 to 20 years of age are taught better agricultural and home making practices and finer and more significant things in rural life.

"The 4-H club organization is probably the largest organization of young people in the world. It has a membership of more than 830,000 boys and girls who have taken for their aim the promotion of better farm practices, better homes, and the development of leadership and citizenship among rural people.

"The 4-H club work was founded on the basis of 'Learn by Doing.' The club members learn by actual experience and by doing the job. The source of information is the extension service, but the actual school is the club member and the club project. Club work today is, always will be what the club members make it.

"The club pledge which gives the meaning of the 4-H's is as follows: My Head to clearer thinking; My Heart to greater loyalty; My Hands to larger service; and My Health to better living; for My Club, my community and my country."

The club motto: "To Make the Best Better."

"We have three organized clubs in Hyde county with approximately 55 active members. The clubs are well located; one at Sladesville, Fairfield and Engelhard, respectively.

"The annual state short course will be held at State college, in Raleigh, from July 25th to 30th. The representatives from the three clubs in this county who will attend this course are as follows:

Maxine Boomer, Lake Landing; Henry Cahoon, Engelhard; Blair Credle, Scranton; Mervis Credle, Scranton; Clifton Mann Credle, of Scranton; S. S. Jennette, Jr., Scranton; Walter Jones, Fairfield; Egbert McKinney, Engelhard; Foy Midyette, Scranton; W. E. Noble, Jr. Scranton; Lindon Polson, Scranton; Eugenia Sanderson, Lake Landing; Frances Weston, Lake Landing; Geo. I. Watson, Lake Landing."

Small Whirlwind Does Damage

Lake Landing, July 23.—A slight whirlwind struck the Lake Landing section last Friday doing small damage. A tree in L. C. Barber's yard was twisted in half and badly splintered; one in Mitchell Carowan's yard was uprooted and his poultry house unroofed. A tree in Mrs. Janie Spencer's yard was blown down and small patches of corn were completely cut down. Miss Helen Lavender was in the yard during the storm and was compelled to die down on the ground to escape being caught up by the wind. Houses and yards were badly littered with dust and particles which the wind left in its path.

T. H. JENNETTE DIES AT HOME IN LAKE LANDING

T. H. Jennette, age 74 years, a well known and highly esteemed resident of Lake Landing died suddenly at his home Thursday morning July 19th at 8 o'clock. The news of his death was a great shock to his relatives and many friends. He had been in the field gathering fresh corn and coming in the house he complained of feeling badly. A few minutes later he died before a doctor could be summoned.

Funeral services were conducted from the home by Rev. H. A. Chatter, and interment was made in the South cemetery. He was buried with Masonic honors. The many floral tributes bore evidence of the respect and esteem in which he was held.

The deceased was an active member of the Methodist church and had been a steward in it for many years. He is survived by his wife, who before her marriage was Miss Rena Sparrow of Aurora; three children, S. E. Jennette of Henderson; Mrs. W. H. Robbins of Burgaw; and Armstead Jennette of Lake Landing and four grandchildren.

NOTICE TO COTTON FARMERS

Cotton farmers who have not signed a 1934-1935 cotton reduction contract and who have not filled out the special cotton survey form No. 2 asking for the number of acres planted to cotton; the number of bales of lint cotton produced and the number of acres harvested for the years 1923 to 1933 inclusive should do so at once by mail. This is very urgent, because before individual allotments of lint cotton can be allotted to individuals cotton farmers which will be tax free, the cotton history of every cotton farm must be turned into the county agent at once.

Every cotton farmer who has planted cotton in 1934 whether he has signed a 1934-1935 contract or not will have to apply for an allotment of lint cotton which will be tax free and all cotton farmers that I have a record of will be notified when to report to his cotton committee to make application for tax free allotment.

Other deep sea fishermen making good catches during the week-end included persons dispatched from Ocracoke to the famous guide of Hatteras included the following persons from Greenville: Graham Flanagan, R. NCERA WORKERS HAVE MEETING IN WASHINGTON

Raleigh, July 24.—NCERA and garden supervisors, case workers and vocational agriculture teachers will meet in Washington, N. C., August 16 to formulate plans for a fall and winter farming program under the rural rehabilitation division of the NCERA. The meeting was called by George Ross, state director of rural rehabilitation and Roy H. Thomas, state supervisor of agricultural education.

Counties to be represented at the Washington meeting are Beaufort, Hyde, Dare Tyrrell, Washington and Martin.

Aims of the program which is to be launched in the district embraced by the above named counties, and in all sections of North Carolina, are to increase the vocational ability of farm families now on relief by teaching them better methods of curing, storing and preserving foods.

The program also is aimed towards giving instruction on rural problems and assisting in planning local rural rehabilitation programs by planning rotations, farm layouts, terracing, pastures and other land improvements and instructions in new and improved practices for both agriculture and local industry.

Best Opportunities In Textile Industry

That the textile industry offers exceptional opportunities to young men with a textile education is evidenced by the following quotation which was taken from an article entitled "Bull Market For 1934 Graduates of Textile Schools," in the June issue of Textile World: "Reports from the schools were almost monotonous in their repetition of the fact that the graduates had found employment before commencement."

Every member of the 1934 graduating class at the textile school of State college secured employment in the textile industry, and Dr. Thomas Nelson, dean of the textile school, stated that the requests for men exceeded the number in the graduating class. A large majority of these young men will be located in North Carolina, thus indicating that a textile education enables North Carolina boys to find pleasant and profitable employment in their native state.

Textile graduates of State college have established such a record of achievement that already requests for information regarding the schools program for next year have been received from nine states and two foreign countries. Present indications are that about 15 states and three foreign countries will be represented by students this fall, and that the textile school enrollment will be higher than in any previous year.

Chevrolet Dealers Over 35,000 Automobile Radios

Detroit, July 24.—Chevrolet dealers have sold 35,000 automobile radios to purchasers of new Chevrolet cars in the last 90 days, M. D. Douglas, parts and service manager of the Chevrolet Motor company, announced here today. The report covers only the sets installed in New 1934 Chevrolets. It does not include the additional thousands purchased from Chevrolet dealers by owners of other cars or of earlier Chevrolets.

While the accomplishment is important in itself, as setting an all time record for radio sales by Chevrolet dealers, Chevrolet officials are especially interested in it as an index of the public's increased buying power. It signifies that many automobile buyers instead of contenting themselves with the car itself, have enough money over and above its purchase price to indulge their desire for additional comfort, luxury and employment. The situation, it is pointed out, did not exist a year ago, and the fact that it does exist today is a proof of returning good times.

I. C. C. DEFEATS GRIMESLAND WEDNESDAY

The Interstate Coopersage company's ball team continued its winning streak by defeating the strong Grimesland club 10 to 9 on the local diamond Wednesday.

The game proved from start to finish the diamond classic of the season. Whisnant, former U. N. C. hurler, pitched matchless ball for five innings and only five hits and two runs, while his teammates were collecting off of Doman, hurler for Grimesland, a total of four hits and two runs before Richard Jones, captain, assumed the burden of pitching.

The seventh inning proved to be the most exciting one of the entire game, during which time the scrappy Grimesland nine scored half a dozen runs.

R. Jones pitched masterly ball, the remainder of the game, while his teammates setup a brand of timely hitting that netted the necessary runs to secure a well earned victory.

Sam Jones and Red Whisnant led the locals with the willow, Jones having a perfect day at bat, getting five hits in five trips to the plate. Whisnant banged out three hits in five trips up.

Batteries: ICC—Whisnant, R. Jones and Shavender; Grimesland—Doman and Sawyer.

Umpires—Purvis and E. Midyette.
