Letters To The Editor

Dear Editor:
A 3 year old boy and 1 year old girl is heart-broken. They don't want to sleep or eat. They just want their Trigger back. Their three year old German Shepherd Dog, name of Trigger, has been missing since about Lunch time Sunday. The dog, normally very protective of the children, would seldom leave his yard at 306 Waco Road. He is large for his age, stands 3 feet tall on 4 feet, about 6 feet on the back feet. Is brownish black with a big nose. His red leather collar sports his license plus a metal tag which contains his name and address. He wither strayed or was picked up on Sunday. Donna Regina, 1, and Donald Avery, 3, just don't understand. They just want their trigger to come home. If you see him, please call the parents at 739-4314 or 739-9948 or please bring him home to his two heart-broken children. Trigger is the same age as Donald Avery, being a birthday present to him. Please contact the Murray's if you know his whereabouts. Thank You.

REFLECTIONS
by Rodney Dodson

Weren't no fish story! I was in error last week in reporting that Joe Lee Woodward had caught a 12 pound crappie. It was a 3 pounder, the 12 pounds was apparently in reference to another fish he had caught.
One reader, after seeing this column last week said of the catch: "I went fishing too-and caught a lantern on my line. . .when I pulled it in I found it was still lit. . .if he'll take 10 pounds off the size of that fish, I'll blow the flame out of that lantern!"

It's just too much! Johnny Cash-in-person-in Cleveland County. I have great admiration for Cash as an entertainer and as a man.

Dr. Poston and Gardner-Webb College are to be commended for recognizing him for his humanitarian works, and honoring him with an honorary Doctor of Humanities degree.

His appearance at Gardner-Webb on September 28th will be a memorable event for the college. I understand the guest list reads like a "who's who" in show business and politics, there's no telling who might show up.

I wouldn't want to miss it!

I'm glad Kings Mountain High is taking a sensible approach regarding student dress and hair length.

Principal J.C. Atkinson says no regulations regarding the dress of students have been imposed. As the principal said "we could never keep up with the changes."

The only restrictions at present are against shorts and going barefoot.

There are no rules regarding hair length, except by the football coach, who decrees that the players' hair can't hang down below their helmets.

When I met Bill Baker, I liked him instantly. His best wishes were especially appreciated. Here's a man who has lived in Kings Mountain all his life, has never left. When he says he loves this town and its people, you know he means it.

Bill (says he doesn't answer to Mr. ) allows he has never been hungry, has a good Christian wife, three Christian daughters. . . . concludes that money is not everything. Well said, Bill.

The town is getting ready for Mountainer Days. There's evidence that a lot of local men have laid aside their razors in preparation for the beard contest.

The Mirror will probably not have a float in the parade. I was thinking on the order of a convertible, adorned with a lovely young lady, wearing a lovely banner. Any applicants?

Well, the new TV season is upon us. Life magazine just devoted an entire issue to the media. Many of the old favorites are returning. I'm looking forward to Hawaii Five-O. I think it's one of the better dramas on the tube. Glen Campbell is coming back on Tuesday with the goodtime hour. I'd like to see more musical guests and less "goodtime" during that hour. I'm anxious to see what other controversial topics All In The Family, a story of just plain folks, can come up with this season.
