Mountaineer Celebration Cancelled

The Mountaineer Days Celebration scheduled for this week, was abruptly cancelled Monday.

The announcement came after weeks of planning and scheduling of the week's events which was to climax with a parade today featuring Miss North Carolina, and 25 local entries.

Chamber of Commerce officials in charge of the Mountaineer Days Celebration said the cancellation was due to the conflict with the Cleveland County Fair going on this week.

Jury Awards Goforth $65,000

A Cleveland County Superior Court Jury Saturday awarded $65,000 to Coleman Goforth for the 146 acres more or less of land sought by the City of Kings Mountain for the water supply lake on Buffalo Creek.

The decision was returned about 5 P.M. Saturday, ending the three-day civil appeal.

C.A. Horn, Goforth's attorney, has given notice of appeal to the North Carolina Court of Appeals. Goforth said the land in question was worth $1,000 per acre.

Three clerks appointed commissioners had previously awarded Goforth $106,250 for the land, the city was appealing this decision.

City Attorney, Jack White, said Tuesday, the city will have 25 days to counter-appeal Horn's appeal.

Senator Visits City

Senator Russell Long of Louisiana, paid Kings Mountain's Mayor John Henry Moss a visit here Tuesday.

Fair Continues Through Saturday

The 1971 Cleveland County Fair got underway Tuesday, October 6th and continues thru Saturday, October 9th, at the Cleveland County Fairgrounds. Gates open each morning at 8 A.M., exhibit buildings open at 10 A.M., and Deggeller Shows begin operation at 10 A.M. General admission is $1.00 for adults, 50 cents for children 12 and under, and parking is 50 cents. An information bureau is maintained in the main office building at the fairgrounds, where information will be given cheerfully and reliably. Fair visitors are invited to use this service.

The formal opening ceremony was held at 11:00 A.M. Tuesday morning. Mr. Wade Hendricks, Director of Farm & Public Relations for the Northwestern Bank in Statesville, was guest speaker. Another special out-of-town guest taking part in opening ceremonies was Miss North Carolina, Patsy Gail Wood, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John William Wood, Jr. of Route 2, Benson, N.C. Miss Wood is a graduate of Meadow High School and East and has taught at Garner Elementary School, Garner, N.C. for the past two years. She spent the day at the fair, and appeared on the stage at the evening grandstand show.

Deggeller Shows illuminate the midway at the Cleveland County Fair again this year. The Deggeller Shows set up at more than 34 fairs in 11 states during the season from January through November, providing thrills and excitement for children of all ages.

A highlight of the Cleveland County Fair is the grandstand show each night featuring top notch entertainment for the whole family. Appearing each night at 7:30 P.M., will be many entertaining variety acts, and the All-American Hell Drivers, headed by Jake Plumstead, world's champion stunt driver. Each night after the grandstand show, the New York Fireworks Company will present spectacular fireworks displays. Wednesday night the local beauty queens have been invited to appear on the grandstand; Miss Shelby, LaVonda Baker; Miss Upper Cleveland County, Karen Lattimore; Miss Kings Mountain, Debbie Timms; and Miss Cherryville, Janna Beam. On Thursday and Friday nights, special guests will be the N.C. Rhododendron Queen, Cheryl Sue Johnson of Southport, and Miss Carol Guderger of Asheville, who has played the part of Dorothy in the "Land of Oz" this summer.

All visitors to the fair will be eligible to register one time each day, thru Friday in the Livestock Barn for a free steer, donated by Planters & Merchants Warehouse and Shelby Bonded Warehouse. The steer will be given away before the Grandstand Friday evening at 8 P.M. Also, fair visitors are invited to register one time each day Tuesday thru Saturday, for a free bale of cotton to be given away by the Fair Association in front of the grandstand Saturday evening at 8 P.M.

All persons 75 years of age and over will be admitted free to the fairgrounds every day. They will be asked to register, and a drawing will be held Saturday evening for a valuable prize.

All public school children in this section will be admitted free to the fairgrounds on Tuesday, and again Friday on tickets they will secure from their respective school principals.

Many attractions await visitors to the 48th annual Cleveland County Fair -- interesting exhibits and displays will fill the exhibit buildings -- the "House of Yesteryears" will offer visitors a view of how our ancestors lived over 100 years ago -- the best in rides and shows will be on the midway -- plus exciting grandstand entertainment each night and the big stock car race Saturday afternoon.

Police Dept. Investigates Three Television Thefts

Police have investigated three separate incidents of television theft in Kings Mountain during the past week.

Thieves entered Clark's Goodyear store on Battleground Ave. Friday night, walking away with a portable color TV set valued at $495.

Manager Chuck Templeton told investigating officer, Grayton Bollinger, that he was at the store working until 10:30 P.M. About 1:30 A.M., he found the window in the door had been broken out with a rock, and the door between the office and the service department also broken out.

A two time victim of the television snatchers has been the Royal Villa Inn.

On September 29th and again Saturday night, Mrs. Linda Sparrow reported to police that TV sets had been stolen from the motel rooms.

On the 29th, Mrs. Sparrow reported that while making their morning rounds, maids discovered TV sets missing from rooms 233 and 236. Locks on the doors were jammed and wouldn't work, and bed spreads were missing from the rooms. The bed spreads were found in the parking lot behind the motel.

Then on Saturday, October 2nd, two color TV's valued at $300 were reported stolen from the motel between 12-3 P.M.

The thieves had reportedly forced open the doors of rooms 234 and 235 and removed the two TV's and bed spreads.

Sunday School Lesson A Regular Feature

The Kings Mountain Mirror, beginning with this issue, is adding to its list of regular features, the International Sunday School Lesson. We hope our readers will find this service educational and inspiring.

Look for the Sunday School Lesson on page 2 of this issue. The lesson this week deals with God's response to prayer. The text for the lesson comes from Exodus 19; 1 Peter 2:1 - 10.

The first mobile home unit left De Rose Industries in Kings Mountain Friday. Jerry Taylor, General Manager of De Rose, left, Welcomes Mayor Moss; Ken Glover, V.P. and Regional Manager, and Ivan Lawson, Sales Manager, to the occasion. The first unit was purchased by Richland Mobile Homes of Hopkins S.C.

Principal - Everything Is Fine

Following last Wednesday's incident of fighting on the campus, Kings Mountain High's Principal Jake Atkinson reported Tuesday that "everything is going fine, now, and we hope it stays that way."

Police Chief Thomas McDevitt said Tuesday that the department has not received any complaints from any school official.

The chief reported that several groups of blacks and whites collected last Thursday night at restaurants on Hwy. 161 S., but said nothing ever happened. The chief added that every officer was on duty Thursday night, but there was no trouble, just rumors.

Referring to the incidents at the high school, McDevitt said, "I'm glad school officials were able to take care of it," and added that "There had to be a little fire where there's that much smoke."

Fun At The Fair
