Adams Gave Super Performance For Hometown Fans

Gardner-Webb got another great performance from Kings Mountain's All-American George Adams before more than 1,600 fans here Saturday night.

Adams scored 40 points, helping whip St. Augustine 112-97.

Adams, the G-W senior and playing his first time back in front of hometown fans since high school tallied 15 field goals and hit on 10 of 11 free throws for his total 40.

G-W maintained a 61-52 edge at intermission.

Senior Tony Spagnola came through with one of his finest nights totaling 16 points on light field goals. The undefeated Bulldogs and once-beaten Barber Scotia battled in the finals of the Invitational Tuesday night at the Community Center.

Adams came through for G-W.

FOOTBALL BY PETE FRITCHIE

Washington, D. C.--Because practically every important college football pick in this column has been wrong this season, here we go with bowl selections, all of which will prove accurate forecasts, of course. (The writer picked Ohio State over Michigan, Oklahoma over Nebraska and Alabama over Auburn.)

Rose Bowl--Michigan will defeat Stanford because we are afraid to go against Michigan again (an excellent and scientific assessment). Cotton Bowl--Texas will win this contest because the Longhorns don't have to play Notre Dame again, and will be glad.

Sugar Bowl--Oklahoma will win this one against Auburn and Pat Sullivan, maybe.

Sports Notes

BY JOHN KILGO
KQ SYNDICATE

Now that Alabama's Bear has proved to the United States of America that his team can play with the bigs, and we can confirm reports that the Russians were scouting the Nebraska-Oklahoma game, attention in these parts drift towards North Carolina's Bill Dooley.

Every day my telephone rings and a Super Ram or a UNC '57 with season tickets in Section 22 asks in whispered tones: "What have you heard about Dooley?"

Carolina faithful, which populate this state in great numbers, are having their holiday season tarnished with fears that one William Dooley, of Mobile, Ala., will take his football show to an enemy campus.

Why in God's world would Bill Dooley be discontent? Isn't he living in Chapel Hill, one of the ten best places in the entire nation to live, according to Time magazine? Doesn't he realize that his entire offensive line returns and his freshman team was unbeaten? What is this talk about the man leaving? Is he crazy? I do not have an information, inside or outside, that Dooley is leaving Carolina. But I can report to you that he is living with the rumors much better than I.

I'll give you one man's opinion about Bill Dooley. When he came to Chapel Hill five years ago, he said he would give UNC an exceptional football team in five years. He gave the Tar Heels an exceptional team in four years and in his fifth he won UNC's first ACC football championship and a trip to the Gator Bowl.

Next year looks just as bright. Many members of this year's team return and the freshman team was unbeaten. Dooley has done the best football coaching job at Chapel Hill of any man in my memory which goes back as far as Carl Snaveley.

Dooley's team are quick, tough against the run and hit with authority. Carolina fans the ones who are sweating out Dooley's future, remember much too well when third and seven against the Tar Heel defense was an automatic first down. Big, fat linemen could not stop the end sweep, the reverse, the pass or much of anything else that has ever been drawn in a high school play book.

Dooley turned all that around and it was hell doing it. Have you ever tried turning a habitual loser into a winner? The season just past saw Dooley and his football team experience every emotion that is humanly possible. They had to live with the tragic death of Billy Arnold. But somehow they managed to keep things together well enough to win nine games. That took guts, my friend.

No number of football victories or bowl games will bring back Billy Arnold. His death is as sad and important today as it was when it happened. But the cold, hard evidence is that Bill Dooley understands this better than anyone.

If he leaves for somewhere else--and I hope he doesn't--the University can know well that it lost a helluva man, who had the guts to persevere in a nightmarish situation that would have defeated most people.

That Is The Question

She: "And after we are married, will you give me an allowance?"

He: "Assuredly, dear."

She: "A liberal one? So that I may buy anything I like?"

He: "Of course, darling. You may spend my money as fast as I can make it. Any other question?"

She: "Yes, how fast can you make it?"
