Edinburgh Revealed KM History

Last weekend in Edinburgh, Scotland we found reference to Kings Mountain, and that caused great excitement for all of us. As tourists in Edinburgh Castle we visited the museums there which show exhibits of the United Services (Army, navy, and air-force). On display are hundreds of old uniforms, military equipment and insignia. One of the display cases contained a Ferguson breech loading flintlock rifle dating from 1776. Specimens of this rifle are very rare as only a limited number were made. In addition to information about the rifle, the printed sign stated that: "Patrick Ferguson received his first commission as a cornet in the Scots Greys at the age of fourteen and in 1788 he became a captain in the 70th regiment. Ferguson later became a major in the 71st (Frazers) Highlanders and during the American War of Independence commanded a specialty trained rifle corps armed with his rifle. He was killed in 1780 at the battle of Kings Mountain."

The weather here is still terribly cold. This is our seventeenth day and we have had some rain every day so far. We are very busy rushing around visiting friends and relatives all over the country. Undeterred by the weather, we are managing to see a great deal of the British countryside. Here in Suffolk we are in an area of picturesque villages with quaint cottages, some having thatched roofs. Sudbury was the birthplace and home of Thomas Gainsborough, the famous portrait painter and not far from here, Constable painted his famous

"Haywain." This morning we attended church at St. Gregory's which is Chruoh of England and Ray's cousin, who is the curate, conducted the service. As we arrived, the bell was tolling. It was hand tolled by a lady at the back of the church. The church building itself is very old. Part of it was built in 1370 and the rest in the 15th century but a church has stood on this site since at least 797 A.D. when the Anglo-Saxon Chronicle recorded that Alfwyn, Bishop of Dunwich, died in Sudbury in that year.

We are all using certain English words that we had almost forgotten such as roundabout (traffic island), fortnight (two weeks), dummy (pacifier) and lorry (truck). Some new words have been brought into use such as stabilizers (training wheels) and grotty which means terrible or horrible. Someone ought to compile an American / English dictionary!

The whole country is crazy about Egyptology and people are queuing up (standing in line) by the thousands to view the Tutankhamen exhibition at the British Museum in London. The stones are full of books and posters and there are special television programs on the subject.

Color is wild over here. The two hottest colors seem to be orange and purple. Not only are these two colors predominant in the fashion world but they are being used as decorative colors too. It's not unusual to see two houses, side by side, one with orange painted trim and gates, the other house painted purple. Orange plastic-ware for kitchen use fills the shelves at stores (no purple plastic-ware yet). One very large department store chain is carrying mens nylon underwear and athletic shirts in orange and purple and also in light and dark blue and brightly patterned designs too. Very wild indeed! It's probably the British way of overcoming the dullness of the weather!

WEEKLY RECIPE

Slaw Dressing

by Ruth Fulton

Ruth Fulton gave us this recipe for slaw dressing which is used by the Womens Club. It makes sufficient to serve about 50 helpings of slaw. During the season of picnics and family reunions this might be useful to try.

1 quart mayonnaise
1 onion, grated
2 tsp. mustard
Dash Worcestershire
2 tsp. celery seed
1/4 cup vinegar
Sugar to taste
Sugar to taste
Canned vaporated milk

Combine all ingredients using sufficient milk to thin to desired consistency.

Self-control is a great virtue but few individuals seek to attain it.

Mr. And Mrs. Cash Celebrate Golden Wedding Anniversary Sunday

The lovely country home of Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Cash, on York Road marked a happy occasion, that of their Golden Wedding Anniversary celebration, Sunday, June 18, 1972. The celebration was given by their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Davis of Mt. Holly, N.C. and their children.

As guests arrived they were greeted at the front gate by Mr. and Mrs. Cecil A. Pendleton and introduced to the receiving line which stood on the porch: Mr. and Mrs. Cash, their only daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James K. Davis, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis, Mr. and Mrs. James Brooks, and Jed Davis, two great-great grand sons, James Travis Brooks and Kenneth Weslev Davis.

Out the same porch guests were asked to register by Mrs.

Louise King and Mrs. Jaunita Oxford.

Mrs. Bryon Hord invited the guests to the dining room which was made festive by arrangements of lovely yellow roses, orchids, ferns and baby breath. The table appointments were all of crystal. The four tiered wedding cake was served with nuts, mints, and punch.

Other rooms of the home were made lovely by arrangements fixed by Mrs. Cash, who is an ardent flower lover, and many were grown in her own yard.

Miss Lethia Lankford was in the gift room and bade the guests good-bye.

Others assisting the serving included Mr. and Mrs. Gene Austin, Mrs. Clarence Plonk, Jr., Misses Judy Plonk, Annie Roberts and Rheta Ann Brooks, Mrs. Lee Brooks, Mrs.

Bob Lervis, Mrs. Paul McGinnis and Mr. Alec Owens. Many guests enjoyed the beautiful flower gardens of Mr. and Mrs. Cash as they were leaving.

Friends attended the reception from Mt. Holly, Belmont, Charlotte, Bessemer City, Concord, Shelby, Greenville, Blacksburg, and Marietta, S. C.

Miss Hord Honored At Saturday Luncheon

Mrs. Hal S. Plonk and Mrs. Tommy Goforth honored bride-elect Miss Mary Jo Hord at a one o'clock luncheon on Crescent Circle.

Miss Hord and Stan Whitley are to be married August 12. Arrangements of magnolias were used in the foyer, den and living room. In the dining room, a miniature bride, flanked by large gold wedding rings topped by white carnations, decorated the buffet. Duplicate ring decorations in white and gold and bridal place cards were used on the guests' tables.

The dining table, overlaid with a white lace cloth, held a centerpiece of magnolias and white tapers in silver candle-labra. A three-course buffet luncheon was served to twelve guests. In addition to the bride-elect, covers were laid for Mrs. D.F. Hord, mother of the bride; Mrs. Marie Yow Whitley of Concord, mother of the groom; Mrs. Byron Keeter, grandmother of the bride; Miss Nancy Hampton of Winston-Salem; Mrs. Gene Thomas of Marietta, Georgia; Mrs. Michael McRee of Gaffney, South Carolina; and Mrs. George Moss, Mrs. J.C. Bridges, Mrs. John C. McGill, Miss Barbara Hord, Miss Nancy Hord of Kings Mountain.

The hostesses presented the bride-to-be with a decorative china clock.

Assisting in serving was Mrs. Bill Bridges of Kings Mountain.
