BASEBALL * * * By Pete Fritchie Washington, D. C. -- Fa-vored treatment to Denny Mc-

Lain, lucky he is still in the game, by the Atlanta Braves, doesn't help baseball's image. McLain, demoted rightly to the Southern Association when he couldn't win (he had a horrible ERA with Oakland), didn't do any better in the Southern.

Yet he was bought by the Braves and brought to Atlanta and given starting assignments. One must assume he was bought as a gate attraction. That seems unfair to fans and players eager and trying to bring Atlanta a winner. Big names unquestionably increase the gate. Vida Blue, who also isn't doing well this year, still draws crowds, But they may not be so big next year if he doesn't turn in a good overall year in 1972. The usual fate of a pitch-

Pete Brennan, a former UNC All-American and a member of the '57 national championship cage team, was the third player picked by the NBA in the 1958 draft.

"The third player picked in last year's pro draft got $1.9 million," Brennan said. "In 1958, I got $11,000. That included my bonus and my first year's salary with the Kni-ck's."

Bobby's Chess

Whatever one thinks of Bobby Fischer's war-ofnerves tactics and other personal behavior, there is no doubt he's a master chess player.

In dominating Boris Spassky, the world's champion, in their first dozen games, Fischer appears certain to be the new champion, and could possibly be by the time some read this editorial.

For America, it is an accomplishment all can take pride in-that this young chess genius has almost single-handedly ended decades of Russian supremacy in what is perhaps the world's most demanding noncard game. Fischer is thus certain to be remembered in America as both a great chess player and folk hero, who came from nowhere to dominate world chess, unquestionably a prodigious achievement.
