ELDER REEVE ELDER OLDFIELD

Missionaries Are Working Fulltime

Two full time missionaries are now serving for The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints (Mormon) in the Kings Mountain area. They are Elder Don Reeve and Elder Dick Oldfield of Sandy, Utah and Saugus, Cal. They succeed Elder Payne and Elder Darrington, who had opened this area up for missionary work nine months ago.

Anyone who is interested in learning more about the church can reach them at 739-7953 before 9:30 in the morning and after 10 at night.

Grover Postmaster Is Honored

GROVER — Fain Hambricht has been presented with a certificate of appreciation for his efforts towards "improved postal services."

The Grover Postmaster received the certificate recently at the National League of Postmasters convention at Carolina Beach.

The certificate, presented by Donald H. Burch, manager of the U. S. Postal Service, Charlotte district, recognized Hambricht's 20 months of service in updating the Charlotte district office new facility program.

Every year thousands of young men and women accept calls to become missionaries for a two year period. They serve at their own expense. Most Mormon missionaries are just out of high school, and plan to continue their education after their missions are over.

Elders Reeve and Oldfield work a seven day week, 10 hours a day sharing the gospel of Jesus Christ to those who are willing to listen. Their daily schedule includes door to door contacting, teaching, and various other methods used in reaching people to teach.
