

1st Presbyterian Provides Setting For Robinson-Hodnett Vows

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ray Hodnett, who were wed Saturday, are on a wedding trip to Boone and afterwards will be at home in Charlotte.

Miss Cynthia Kay Robinson became Mr. Hodnett's bride in a 4 p.m. wedding in First Presbyterian Church.

Rev. Gary Bryant, pastor of the church, heard the exchange of vows in the double-ring ceremony.

Mrs. Darrell Austin was organist, Sam Robinson, Jr., brother of the bride, was guitarist and Scott Rhea was vocalist for the program of nuptial music.

The altar of the church was banked with greenery and enhanced by yellow and white flowers interspersed with spiral tapers in wrought-iron candelabra.

Dr. Sam L. Robinson escorted his daughter to the altar and gave her in marriage. The bride's wedding gown was a formal design of ivory dacron organza styled with high neckline, full, sheer sleeves and empire waistline. Her gown was complemented with silk Venise lace and flowing, Chapel train. Her two-tiered waltz-length veil was trimmed with silk Venise lace and attached to a lace-covered Juliet headpiece accented with pearls. She carried a bouquet of yellow and ivory silk roses.

Miss Anne Marie Gaumont attended the bride as maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Robin Dickey of Kings Mountain and Charlotte, Miss Amy Hodnett of Spartanburg, S.C., sister of the bridegroom, Miss Laura Blake of Greensboro and Miss Kay Lawhon of Winston-Salem.

All the attendants wore yellow Silesta gowns styled with blouson bodices and full, sunburst pleated skirts. Each carried two long-stemmed yellow roses.

Best man for the bridegroom was his father.

Groomsmen were Sam Robinson Jr., Jeff Robinson, Jerald Robinson, all of Kings Mountain, brothers of the bride, Scott Rhea of Kings Mountain and Randy Peterson of Auburn, Ala.

The bride's mother chose a formal-length gown of coral chiffon over qiana featuring empire waistline and long sleeves. She wore a white orchid at her shoulder.

The bridegroom's mother chose an aqua softly-fitted sleeveless gown of qiana knit with V neckline and topped with a capelet of matching silk chiffon. She wore a white orchid at her shoulder.

The bride's parents entertained after the ceremony at a beautifully-appointed wedding reception in the church fellowship hall where the yellow and white theme of the wedding was beautifully featured in decorative details.

Still Amazing After 33 Years

After 33 happy years of marriage Jim Dickey never ceases to amaze his wife, Audrey.

The Nelsco Mills executive and City Commissioner from Ward Six is always bringing home a guest for lunch.

And, Audrey is, and has always been, the perfect hostess always willing and ready to set an extra plate at her sumptuous table.

Thursday was an exception.

Jim called Audrey to ask her to meet him and Carl Goforth and some guests for luncheon at the Country Club. "Just bring them on out to the house for lunch," said Audrey, who was in the middle of canning peach pickles. "That's o.k.," said Jim, "We'll treat you today."

The Dickey's distinguished guests turned out to be the reigning Miss North Carolina, of Asheville, her Jaycee escorts, Mr. and Mrs. Tuck Gudger, longtime friends of the Dickey's, and Jean-Claude Bordes, the Consul General of Haiti, who is the number three man in that government.

Jim Dickey and Gudger played football together at Catawba College in Salisbury during the late 40's and in the first tangerine bowl in Orlando, Fla., Catawba vs. Maryville, Tenn., and in the second tangerine bowl, also in Orlando, when Catawba played Marshall College of West Virginia. Catawba won both games.

Bordes, who speaks French fluently but has some difficulty in mastering Southern English, was a charming guest, as were Miss North Carolina and her chaperones, said Audrey, who quickly extended an invitation for them to return for another visit soon.

Three Bridal Parties Honor Miss Rowell

Miss Eve Rowell, whose wedding to Jeffrey Lane Page will take place on Aug. 12th at Resurrection Lutheran Church, was honored with three bridal showers.

A Drop-In at Lake Montonia was hosted by Kim Gladden and Kathy Shull on July 20th. The hostesses presented Miss Rowell a corsage of pink miniature roses and baby's breath and relatives of the bride-to-be and friends of the engaged couple presented them with gifts for their new home.

A linen shower July 22nd at the Church of God Fellowship Hall honored the bride-to-be. Entertaining together were Judy Bolin and Susan Whetstone.

A pink and white color motif was featured on the table decorations and refreshments. The refreshment table was adorned with a pink cloth covered with lace overlay. Pink candles and an arrangement of silk flowers were used as a centerpiece. Strawberry
