Journalism Staff Sets Fashion Show

Everything from sportswear to the latest vogue in formal wear will be displayed in "A Holiday Showcase of Fashion," sponsored by the K.M.S.H. Journalism Staff. The fashion show will be held Thurs. evening, Nov. 29th, in Barnes Auditorium at 7:30 p.m. "A Holiday Showcase of Fashion" will feature a colorful array of clothing from popular lines, such as Calvin Klein, Bobbie Brooks, Levis, Hang Ten, and Dickies. These fashions will be furnished by Fulton's Department Store, Plonk's Department Store, McGinnis Department Store, The Clothesline, and Toney's Clothing.

Participating models are students within The Kings Mountain District School System.

Tickets can be purchased from members of the Mountaineer Staff or at the door. "The Journalism students would appreciate your support," said a spokesman.

DAR Meeting Held

Mrs. M.L. Tear was hostess Wednesday to the November meeting of Colonel Frederick Hambright Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

Mrs. Tolly Shuford, Regent, read a Thanksgiving Proclamation written by Dwight D. Eisenhower to open the meeting. Mrs. Ann Thornburg, representing the Cherokee Chapter in Atlanta, was present as a special guest.

Eleven members attended and heard a report that $855 worth of donated items were taken to Crossnore Schools by the members during the month of October. Junior Citizen materials were distributed in the schools.

Mrs. H.A. Goforth presented the program on "The American Indian," their customs, and history and importance in the United States.

Mrs. W.T. Weir, in reporting National Defense News, reviewed this country's national security problems in the Caribbean.

Buy A Tree For GSFC

Have you bought a tree, a shrub, a bed of plants or one plant in the $10,000 Beautification Project of the Governmental Services Facilities Center?

To help citizens decide what to select, a large blueprint will soon be on display in the vestibule of the new City Hall to show the names and number of trees and plants to be used and the respective prices.

Any undesignated donation is minimum of care.

The Fire Department will keep them well watered to insure their growth, said Mrs. W.T. Weir, chairman of the Beautification committee.

"The handsome, modernistic building is the gift of the mayor and the commissioners through federal grants they obtained," continued Mrs. Weir, and the beautification is ours, the gift of all citizens, as well as of clubs and businesses."

Memorial and in honor of" brass strips are available for a nominal fee. The name plates, each bearing the name of one person, will be placed on plaques inside the building.

The Cherryville Nursery is to begin setting the plants in a few days, and, weather permitting, hopes to complete the project before Christmas. All trees and shrubs selected are suitable for this area and will grow with a

One name or Mr. and Mrs. on each metal plate is $150 and name plates will be placed on plaques and hung in the new City Hall vestibule. Chairpersons of the memorial committee are Mrs. Sara Faunce, William Grissom and Mrs. Pam Goforth.

Laura McGinnis Selected

Shelby Exchange Club presented its November Youth-of-the-Month award this week to Miss Laura McGinnis, a senior at Kings Mountain High School. Miss McGinnis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James B. McGinnis of Kings Mountain, was selected based on her academic achievements and her record of leadership in school and community activities.

Miss McGinnis is president of the Senior class, a member of Student Council, Beta Club, and the National Honor Society. Other school activities include FHA (president), Science Club, FTA, and club editor of the annual staff. She is a former Student Body secretary, was selected "Friendliest" senior, and attended "Presidential Classroom for Young Americans." She directed the Senior High Bloodmobile Drive and is an active member of St. Matthew's Lutheran Church, where she sings in the Senior

Choir and is a former youth group president. Laura also finds time to hold a part time job in a Kings Mountain department store. College plans are to pursue a degree in Business Administration at Clemson University.

This is the third of eight monthly awards to be presented by the Exchange Club this year. Recipients will compete for a $500 scholarship, with an opportunity to advance to District and National Exchange Club scholarship competition.

PEANUT SALE

Kings Mountain Kiwanis Club-sponsored Peanut Sale will be held Sat., Dec. 1. Bill Grissom is project chairman and all proceeds are earmarked for Kiwanis Little League projects.

Shelby, KM Students Take Tour Of Area Farms

Fifth-Grade students of Shelby City schools and Kings Mountain city schools learned at the Farm-City Tour last week that milk and turkeys do not originate in grocery stores. They saw first-hand how milk was produced and how turkeys were grown for market.

The farm tour and a "Farmer-Businessmen Breakfast" highlighted Farm-City Week activities in Cleveland County from Nov. 15-22.

Shelby students visited Crest View Dairy Farm and the Jerry Scruggs Turkey Farm.

Kings Mountain students visited Bill Plonk's Dairy Farm and Jim Yarbro's Turkey Farm. Extension agents accompanied the students on the tour to point out crops and other agricultural activities in the county.

James A. Graham, N.C. Commissioner of Agriculture, stressed the importance of agriculture in a speech at the breakfast attended by approximately 125 farmers, businessmen and other county leaders. The breakfast was hosted by the farmers.

The purpose of Farm-City Week is to promote a wide-spread understanding of the interdependence of farm and city groups, and to narrow the gap of understanding that sometimes divides the rural and urban segments of our population.
