

Shelby Foursome Wins County Cancer Tourney

Donis Gold, Jackie Harris, Judy Charpentier and Jenny Hinson combined for a 14-under-par 58 Tuesday to win the annual Cleveland County American Cancer Society Golf Tournament at Kings Mountain Country Club.

The victory earned the foursome a trip to Pinehurst October 27 to compete in the North Carolina Walter Hagen Tournament. The winners will travel to Disney World in Orlando, Fla., November 21-22 for the National Tournament.

The Shelby foursome was the final group to tee off in the event and they reported in one-shot better than the Kings Mountain foursome of Margaret Williams, Ann Corn, Lib Gault and Jenny Arnette, who seemingly had the handicap event sewed up with a 59.

Third place went to Lynn Mauney, Norma Cabiness, Peggy Green and Bonnie Cates. They finished with a 60. Peggy Jackson, Anne Pouchak, Connie Ledford and Marian Thomasson shot 63, Peggy Webb, Betty Lutz, Ruby McSwain and Francana Vaughn 64 and Maxine Putnam, Velma Moore, Linda Rome and Ethel Tignor 70.

The tournament raised $250 for the American Cancer Society. The men's tournament, held earlier in the summer, netted $1,352, giving Cleveland County its biggest year ever. The $1,600 raised in the two tournaments this year surpassed last year's total by $1,100.

Alex McCallum, chairman of the tournament, Kay Holshouser, of the Cleveland County American Cancer Society, and Rudy Hayes, golf pro at KMCC, presented awards.

Door prizes were donated by Bridges Hardware, Plonk Brothers, Harris-Teeter, Quality Sandwich, Fulton's, First Federal Savings and Loan, Shelby Sporting Goods and Coca-Cola.

"I'd like to thank all the participants, the Kings Mountain Ladies Golf Association and Club Pro Rudy Hayes for their cooperation and assistance in making the tournament a success," said McCallum.
