SPEAK ON ISSUES—Central School students took their politicking for the presidential candidates seriously and campaigned prior to election day. Back row, Tammy Allen and

Central Students Voted

Seventh graders in John Petus' social studies class at Central School took their politics seriously recently as they campaigned for presidential candidates. Like virtually all schools in the system, the students voted in a mock election Tuesday.

The "Spirit of 80's Contest", in which the young people participated, is sponsored by Junior Scholastics and the winning social studies class wins an all-expense paid trip to the nation's capitol.

"Voter Awareness Through Student Participation" was the program theme and students representing the major presidential candidates were introduced by a campaign manager and then presented views of the candidates.

Jeff Scism introduced David Randall (John Anderson), John Webster introduced Roderick Boyce (Jimmy Carter) and Karen Holcomb introduced Myra Yarborough (Ronald Reagan). Tammy Allen was panel moderator.

The program was presented during 4th, 6th and 8th periods during the day to allow every member of the study body to attend, as well as the public.

"A vote for Anderson is a vote for the ERA and the house is where the woman's place is", said David Randall.

"Jimmy Carter is from the South and he knows our needs", said John Webster. He is experienced at making many difficult decisions and he has proved himself as a peacemaker."

Roderick Boyce said "Carter will put people back to work during the next four years and control inflation.

"Carter has been blamed for about everything, said the young man, but he has kept our country out of war. If you want a real president, tell your parents to vote for Carter Tuesday."

Myra Yarborough, representing Reagan, blamed Carter for inflation, the 600 promises he has made and not kept, the high rise in taxes, the failing economy, and giving away the Panama Canal. She also blamed the President for the high cost of gasoline, $1.22 a gallon, she said, and the high cost of hamburger, $1.19 a pound, among other things. She said that Reagan will cut taxes by 30 percent over the next three years and reduce government spending. Reagan (Myra Yarborough) asked Carter (Roderick Boyce) how he planned to remain neutral in the Persian Gulf and Boyce replied, "by not using military force." Boyce asked Reagan (Miss Yarborough) what Reagan planned to do about the hostages and she replied, "Give them a certain time to get home and then I'll do something else." Miss Yarborough asked David Randall (Anderson) how he felt about drafting women and he replied, "Men should go to battle and women should stay at home."

CONGRESSMAN JIM BROYHILL SAYS "THANK YOU"

CONGRESSMAN JAMES T. BROYHILL
House Of Representatives
Washington, D. C.

Dear Friends:

I would like to use this means of communication to express my appreciation to my friends in the 10th Congressional District for your very strong support in the November 4th election.

Winning takes much hard work on the part of many dedicated people, and I was very fortunate to have a large number of volunteers working on my behalf in every area of the district. To each of you, Louise and I say "Thanks!"

As I begin my 10th term in the Congress, I want to pledge to you that my legislative efforts will be dedicated to helping each person I represent. We must work together to formulate an economic policy that will reduce the cost of living and revive the sagging economy. We must strengthen our military, and we must work with our new President, Ronald Reagan, to develop a sensible and consistent foreign policy.

I pledge to each person my continued dedication to the people of the 10th Congressional District. My office in Washington and my district offices in Gastonia, Hickory, and Lenoir are always anxious to assist the fine people in our district regardless of political affiliation. I am always interested in hearing your views on the important issues facing our country.

I wish that time permitted me to thank each person individually for your support; however, this is not possible. Please accept my sincere thanks for the confidence which you have expressed in my work, and I assure you that I will continue to work hard to represent you in Washington. Please let me know whenever I can be of assistance to you with any problem involving the federal government.

With best regards,

Jim
James T. Broyhill
Member of Congress

Congressman Jim Broyhill
