doors until after the vote was counted.

Attorney Kakassy argued that county voting procedures as conducted at the Nov. 4 election were in violation of state law, that write-in candidates were "non partisan" candidates, neither Democratic or Republican, and that no official ballot should have been rejected because of a technical error. He maintained that some of the officials working the polls were unaware the three write-in candidates, Crawford, John Caveny Jr. and Duran Johnson, were non partisan candidates and "therefore counted the ballots improperly.'

Kakassy pointed out that in Shelby No. 3 precinct eight votes were counted for write-ins, yet he had 12 affidavits signed by persons who cast votes there for write in candidates.

Secretary Crosby, a Kings Mountain lawyer, called for the board to go into executive session at 11:15 a.m. to confer with their attorney, Robert W. Yelton, and the board returned about 15 minutes later to announce that legal matters were discussed without action.

Mr. Crosby then presented the Election Board's findings and their conclusion of the facts presented at the hearing and recapped the testimonies offered from persons present and from those supplied by sworn affidavits.

Bobby Crawford, who read a two page statement, said that his purpose was not to make a personal protest against any member of the board of elections, registrars, judges, counters or other poll workers. "I want to express my personal and the Association's appreciation for the overall conduct and cooperation we received from you during a very tiring and strenuous election day. We are very happy and proud of the strong support we received county wide expressed by the number of write in votes

"On Wednesday morning, my telephone and Bruce Scism's began to ring, to my surprise, most of them were concerning irregularities at the polls. As persons all across Cleveland County continued to call, it became very evident that the irregularities were numerous and serious enough to possibly change the election results for county commissioners."
